Foreword . . .

Your Keys to '58 . . .

Today, more than ever before, we are offered vast opportunities in the fields of medicine, science, and higher education. With each passing year, progress presents a new and challenging feat to all of us. Behind locked doors, it is waiting for us to reach out, hold, and understand.

We, being more fortunate than those of years gone by, have been offered keys to unlock the doors of the future. Through many scholarships, contests, and extended opportunities, we are offered a means to obtain these keys to a more secure future. This is not the end or the beginning. The world realizes the need for better American citizens, and is giving us the keys inviting us to accept and unlock these doors to a better America.

Our keys to '58 are three: spring, fall, and winter. Spring with its baseball, track, tennis, and archery brought us a chain of events including the Mardi Gras, Miss Marger's anniversary, the Musicales, and Graduation. Fall descended upon us with football, assemblies, and the wins and losses of our games. It brought with it the test of good sportsmanship which aids us to become better citizens. Winter roared in with basketball, intramurals, and winter sports. It was at this time, as a fitting preparation for Christmas, that the freshman and sophomore classes had their annual retreat.

The keys have a symbolic meaning to every student.

To the seniors, they unlock the door to the last and most enjoyable year of years spent at St. Joseph's.

To the juniors, they represent a decisive turning point, for they, the forthcoming seniors, will be the leaders of the Class of '59.

To the sophomores, the door is unlocked to the prestige of upper-classmen.

To the freshmen, these keys symbolize the completion of their initial step, for soon they will be sophomores.

It is our opportunity, an everlasting one, to pick up the keys that open the doors to success and a better America.

1857 — DIOCESAN

HISTORY OF THE DIOCESE OF FORT WAYNE . . .

The Diocese of Fort Wayne, as now constituted, is more than a year old. We are celebrating its one hundredth anniversary, however, because it is still part of the original territory which was cut off from the Diocese of Vincennes to form the new Diocese of Fort Wayne by decree of Pope Pius IX on the date of September 22, 1857.

When the diocese was established in 1857 the man appointed to be its first Bishop was a priest of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, John Henry Luers. He was consecrated by Archbishop John B. Purcell on January 10, 1858.

When Bishop Luers took possession of his see in 1858, he found only twenty priests in the whole territory, both secular and religious, twenty-six churches, five schools, and about 25,000 Catholics.

HISTORY OF THE DIOCESE OF FORT WAYNE . . .

The Diocese of Fort Wayne, as now constituted, is more than a year old. We are celebrating its one hundredth anniversary, however, because it is still part of the original territory which was cut off from the Diocese of Vincennes to form the new Diocese of Fort Wayne by decree of Pope Pius IX on the date of September 22, 1857.

When the diocese was established in 1857 the man appointed to be its first Bishop was a priest of the Archdiocese of Cincinnati, John Henry Luers. He was consecrated by Archbishop John B. Purcell on January 10, 1858.

When Bishop Luers took possession of his see in 1858, he found only twenty priests in the whole territory, both secular and religious, twenty-six churches, five schools, and about 25,000 Catholics.

The diocese was placed under the patronage of the Blessed Virgin Mary. In 1858, Notre Dame and Mishawaka each had a parish with a resident pastor. South Bend was then the site of a mission church. At South Bend and Mishawaka were the only parochial (elementary) schools then existing in the diocese. The Brothers of Holy Cross also conducted a Manual Training School at Notre Dame. St. Mary's Academy was in charge of the Sisters of the Holy Cross. This, in a general way, is a picture of the diocese as Bishop Luers found it a hundred years ago.

A new era opened for the Fort Wayne Diocese in 1925, when John Francis Noll was consecrated fifth Bishop of the Diocese. Bishop Noll was, perhaps, the greatest Bishop of the Diocese. Throughout his long life he edified both clergy and laity by a display of energy that carried his name and influence and good works far beyond the borders of his own diocese. He received the personal title of Archbishop in 1953. Among Archbishop Noll's outstanding achievements can certainly be listed the construction of St. Joseph's High School here in South Bend. His generosity helped make this school a reality.

The Diocese mourned the death of this truly great man on July 31, 1956.

Archbishop Noll was succeeded by our present bishop, the Most Reverend Leo A. Pursley, D.D. Bishop Pursley has served the Diocese of Fort Wayne as Pastor, Auxiliary Bishop, Apostolic Administrator, and now as Bishop. During his few months as Bishop, he has already taken large and dramatic strides toward reorganizing the Diocese and toward bringing to Catholics of the Diocese facilities and services of the Church designed to enrich Catholic Life, especially with regards to his interest in Catholic education.

Bishop Pursley is no stranger when he enters the doors of St. Joseph's High School. During the illness of the late Bishop Noll, he has been present for the dedication of the gym and several graduations. On October 21, 1957, Bishop Pursley celebrated Holy Mass in the school auditorium, commemorating the founding of the Diocese. There is little doubt that our Diocese will see new and great achievements under his leadership.

CENTENNIAL—1957

A formal procession to the school auditorium marked the opening of the Centennial Mass celebrated on October 21, 1957, for the entire student body.

As we pass through the year in our quest for higher education, we come upon the season which acts as the climax to all the weeks, months, and years that lead up to it. To the seniors, the key to spring opens the door to the high point in their four years at St. Joseph's — Graduation Day.

To the underclassmen, spring also holds much significance. The juniors had their Prom in a "Parisian Paradise." The sophomores and freshmen had their hopes and fears with coming examinations.

Along with St. Joseph's first spring musicale, the field of athletics had much to offer with baseball, tennis, archery, and track on the top-interest list.

All in all, in the fields of education, social events, and athletics, no other season can boast such a repertory.

"The pause that refreshes"

The Indians' 1957 baseball season was one highlighted by many rained-out games and a very tough schedule. Our fighting nine was pitted against very rigid conference competition for the most part, but pulled through in fine shape, compiling a record of 8 wins and 4 losses. Among the eight wins were those over South Bend Central, Michigan City, Riley, and LaPorte, all conference "toughies" last year.

Practices were scarce for the first couple of weeks due to wet grounds and rain, and necessitated practice sessions in the gym. But Coaches Turco and Bella did a fine job of whipping the team into shape for the first game.

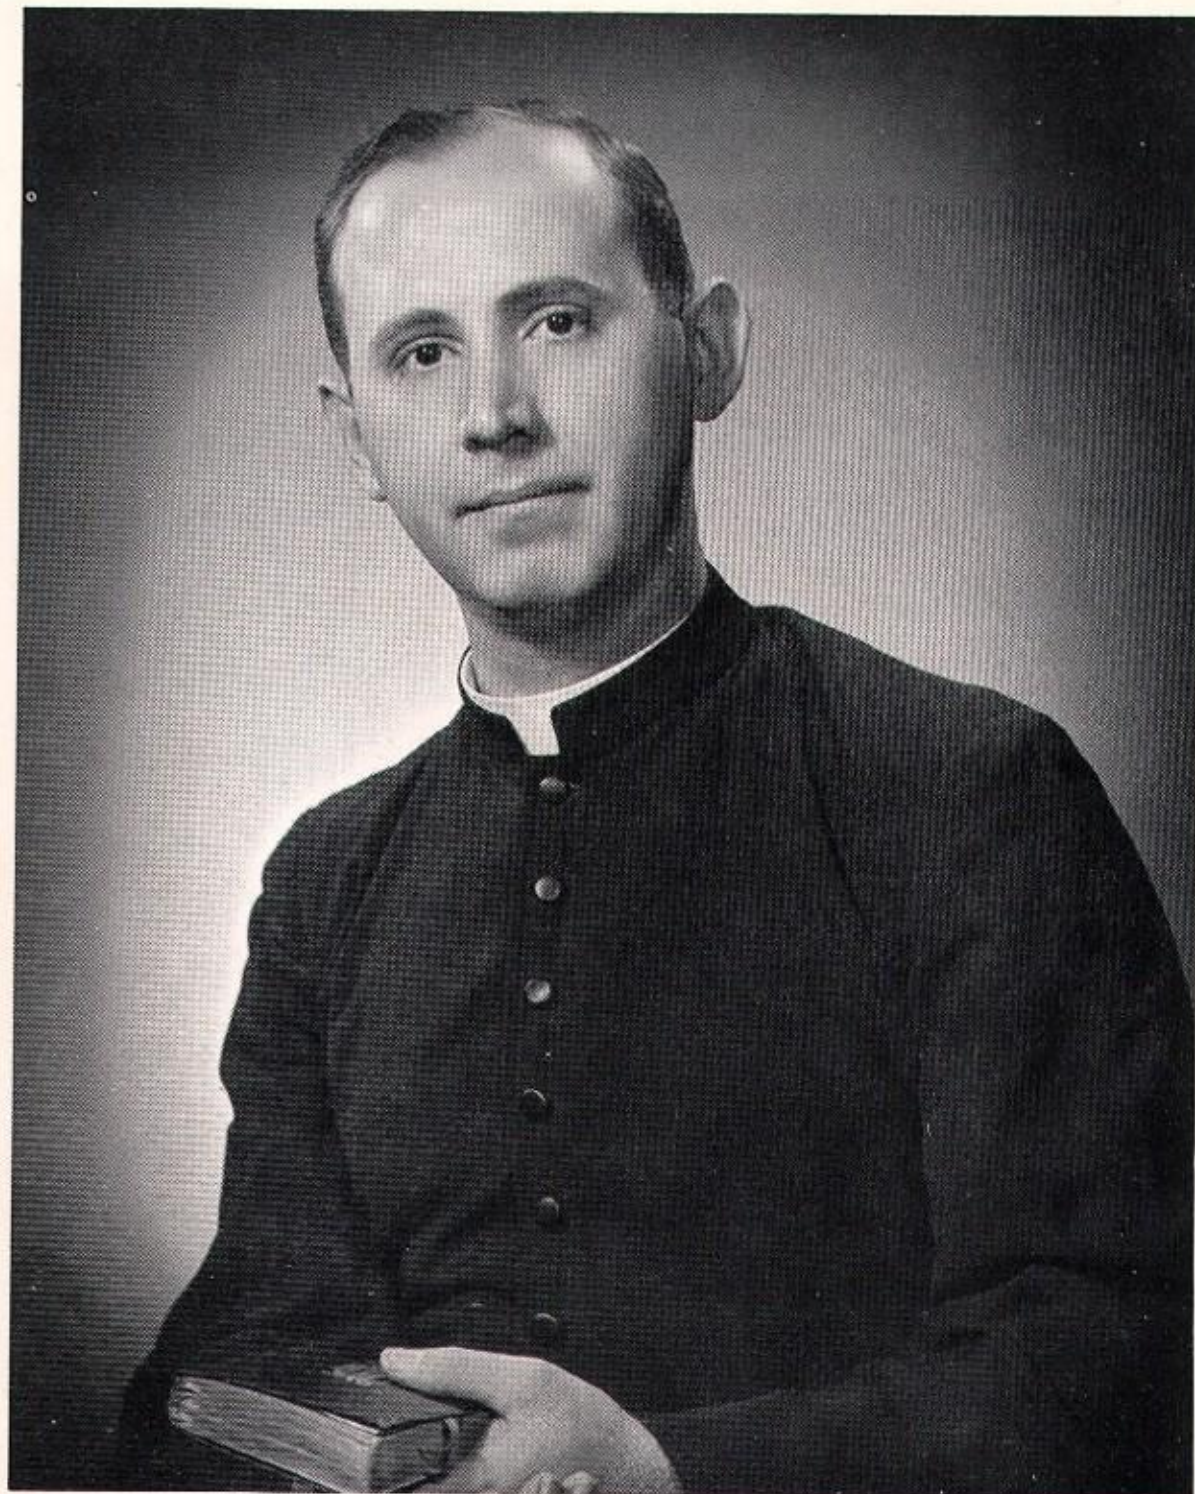

A fine pitching staff, including Tom Malinowski, Rick Hafron, Mike Boehm, and Sophomore Bob Dygulski, consistently hurled low hit games, and there was not one home run hit off our pitching staff in the entire season.

Fine hitting also consistently won games for our Braves, especially that of the mainstays of the team, Tom Lower, Ernie Kolesiak, Ken Riemer, and Pete Gapczynski.

Many of the Indians' wins came from large scores rolled up, over the opposing team, but 3 of their 4 defeats were by two runs or less. Also the team as a whole had a comparatively high batting average, ranging in the 280's.

The "B" Team posted a 6-3 season.

On a large scale, this baseball season can be considered a success for all concerned, players, coaches, and even managers. But with quite a few members of last year's team graduating, the coaching staff will look forward to a rebuilding job this year.

Superintendent of St. Joseph's High School

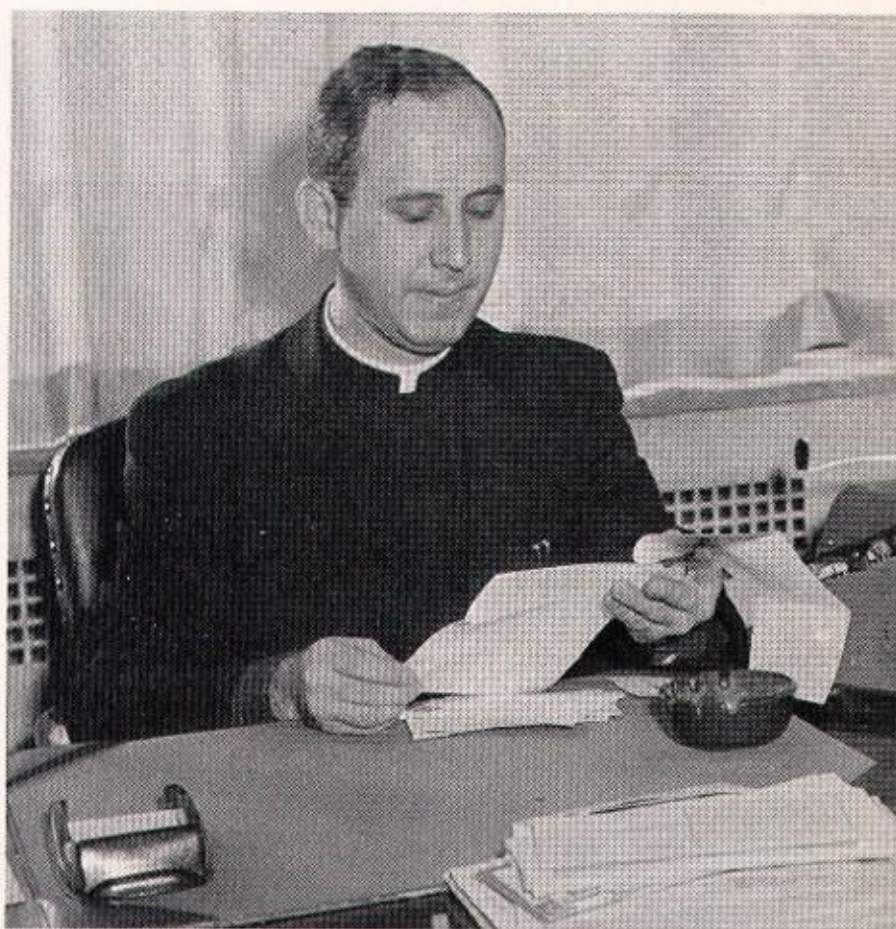

Father John Vrabely

A New Position

The student body of St. Joseph's High expresses its deep appreciation to newly appointed Superintendent, Father John Vrabely. In following his successor, Father Michael Vichuras, who had done much in developing the school in its beginning years, every energy would be exacted in filling this most important position.

His interest in the many responsibilities of his office as well as in student affairs has had a definite positive effect to develop the wholesome Catholic attitude of the students. Father's words of encouragement during the school year will surely be heeded in years to come, for his recognition of the importance and the welfare of the school and student body is indicated in his many completed endeavors. Although Father fills his position with near perfection, his genuine spirituality is felt by all who come in contact with him, and who ever notice his pleasant disposition and warm greetings.

Father is indeed an inspiration and model worthy of sincere praise.

Father John prepares his schedule for a busy day ahead.

The St. Joe Archery Team captured second place in the 18th National Interscholastic Archery Tournament for boys as judged by the Tournament Committee in Bloomfield, N. J. The team also captured second place a year ago, the first in which the Indians competed.

Brother Thaddeus, C.S.C., faculty moderator, has had a team for two years and this year it came through in fine fashion in national competition.

Five teams represented the school in the tourney, two boys' teams and three girls'. Last year marked the first time the girls became part of the Archery Club.

The boys' second place was achieved from a score of 2,712 with 479 hits.

Members of the team and scores included: Leroy Ornat (488), Paul Sypniewski (488), James Jankowiak (484), Francis Schultz (470), Dennis Bellemore (446), and James Mucha (336).

The girls' team included: Carol Manuszak (492), Rosemary Gundeck (449), JoAnn McGrogan (445), Tami Bassett (416), Kathleen Kopek (413), and Rosemary Mast (370).

Athletic Banquet

Some four hundred loyal St. Joe football and basketball fans attended the fourth annual athletic banquet in the school cafeteria. The banquet is held yearly to honor those who have participated in the athletic program at St. Joseph's. It is the purpose of the banquet to recognize their achievements and to award letters to the players.

Coach Bob Jauron of St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Indiana, who directed the Puma football team to an undefeated season and to the small college championship, was the principal speaker. He stressed the necessity of teamwork and desire as the ingredients for success.

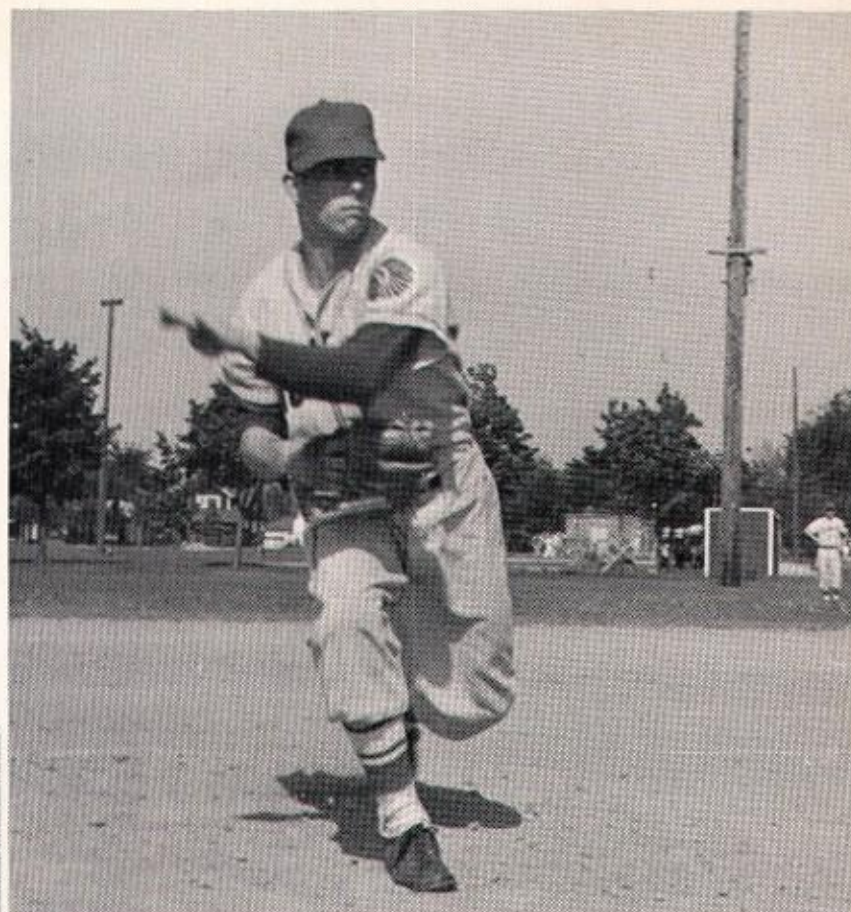

Toastmaster Edward "Moose" Krause of Notre Dame fame did an excellent job in introducing the speakers and guests.

Brother Alexius commended the team on their fine performance and revealed the '57 schedule, which was very formidable. Later, Coach George Kelly introduced his players and expressed optimistic hopes for the coming season. The Honorable Edward F. Voorde, Mayor of South Bend, also expressed his congratulations to the team.

The repeated success of the athletic banquet is another indication of things to come; namely, that as in all things, St. Joseph's is also destined to be the very best in athletics.

Freshman - Sophomore Declamation Contest

In promoting interest in scholastic achievement, the members of the Sophomore and Freshman English classes participated in its second annual declamation contest.

Before an assembly of both classes the selections given varied from humorous poetry to serious prose. The judges, chosen from the faculty, had some difficulty in eliminating all but three of the contestants. It was evident to all that the speakers, the elite of the oratorical circle, had spent much time and practice in their presentations.

In the Sophomore division the final decision rested upon Ron Gerencher who gave a brilliant interpretation of Shakespeare's prologue to "Richard III." His dramatic style and resonance clinched the title from his two close adversaries, Dave Deka and Archie Jeffers whose declamations were "Chicago" by Carl Sandburg and "Long John Silver" by John Masefield respectively.

In the Freshman division, John Crowley's presentation of Tennyson's "Charge of the Light Brigade" won the unanimous decision for first place. Tom Serge's convincing and comical presentation of "The Cremation of Sam McGee" followed in second place, with Robert Blackwood's delivery of "Gunga Din" by Rudyard Kipling in third place.

Junior Prom

On May 10, 1957, the class of '58 presented its Junior Prom amid the enchanting atmosphere of a "Parisian Paradise." Upon arrival couples were met by a Garcon attired in a costume befitting the occasion. At the head of the stairs stood the Arc de Triumphe through which all guests passed upon entrance to the dance floor. On stage the Eiffel Tower rose high above the Mickey Isley orchestra which was providing the music. Descending into Cafe Continental, guests were escorted to tables covered by red and white checked tablecloths. In the center of each the flickering flames of the candles danced from their positions atop the champagne bottles. Tiny replicas of the Eiffel Tower enclosing perfume bottles served as favors. At eleven o'clock the crowning of the king and queen took place. After being chosen, Paul Menucci and Nancy Tepe led everyone in the Grand March. Midnight came all too soon for the happy tourists as they regretfully took leave of a wonderful Parisian holiday.

Senior Ball

Dancing through the misty depths of a nautical kingdom, the Seniors and their dates spent an unforgettable evening from nine to twelve o'clock on Friday, May 24, 1957. Providing the music for this gala event was Louise Hubbard and her band. The scene was set amidst multi-colored fish and sea nets. Complementing these decorations were favors of minute lighthouses, sail boats and sea shells which adorned each table. A treasure chest of "precious" jewels added a sparkling touch to the stage. Viewing the spectacle from her position overlooking the wishing pond was the statue of the Blessed Virgin, enclosed in a grotto of sea shells. The evening was climaxed by the coronation of the King and Queen. As the clock struck twelve the many Cinderellas and their princes regretfully took leave of the rapturous "Nautical Nocturne."

King Joe Simeri and Queen Eleanor Cwiklinski attracted much attention during the dance of the court.

The highlight of any Senior Ball, the coronation of the King and Queen.

Redskin Relays

Under the sponsorship of the Boys Senate, the annual Redskin Relays were held on May 15th, during the afternoon school session. The Juniors soundly defeated the Seniors by a score of 57 to 32. Three days later, on the second day of the Relays, the Sophomores toppled the Freshmen.

The Relays, which were a popular tradition carried over from Central Catholic High, have become equally popular at St. Joseph's. The mere fact of escaping three hours of school time, put everyone in a happy mood. With such events as the three-legged race, the Tug-O-War, softball, and volleyball games, interest and enthusiasm ran high all afternoon. The racing events were a top attraction, and frequently determined the winner of the events. Softball was the final event of the afternoon.

There is little doubt that the Relays are here to stay and become a real tradition in the school.

SILVER

Miss Ann Marger expressing her gratitude to all who helped make her jubilee celebration a momentous occasion in her life.

JUBILEE

For Faithful Service

At the near close of the 1957 school year, Miss Ann Marger, celebrated her silver anniversary in the nursing profession. This marked twenty-five years of faithful service to a number of city schools. The Faculty and a group of close friends and associates gave a dinner in her honor in the school cafeteria to celebrate this event. Dr. F. R. Nicholas Carter of the South Bend Department of Public Health was one of several speakers.

Miss Marger is known throughout the school as that patient, cheerful person who sacrifices her own comfort for the well-being of others. During the flu epidemic of the 1957 fall semester, she offered her undivided attention to the students of St. Joseph's. Never tiring of her mission, she worked relentlessly for the welfare of all, sometimes even neglecting her personal attention.

We owe our deepest gratitude and heartfelt thanks to our school nurse, Miss Marger, who has contributed so much to the benefit of the entire school.

Hearing tests are only a part of the many duties taken on by Miss Marger during the school year.

AWARDS DAY

At the close of each year, recognition is given to those students who have achieved excellence in their class work, activities, or leadership. Each student that does his or her best in striving for the goals of a true Catholic education deserves this special praise and recognition. It is regretted that all who have put forth their best efforts cannot be recognized in a similar way. However, each Class Day represents a milestone in the intellectual growth of St. Joseph's High School, made possible by those who have realized their life's ambitions and have seriously worked toward that end.

1957 Spring Musicale

Under the direction of Brother Anthony Clemente, C.S.C., such scenes as "Hernando's Hideaway" gave added sparkle to the songs taken from recent Broadway Musical Hits.

The "Banana Boat Song" highlighted the creative choreography of Mrs. Ciretta "Buczkowski" Coty who so capably directed the dance routines for the entire production.

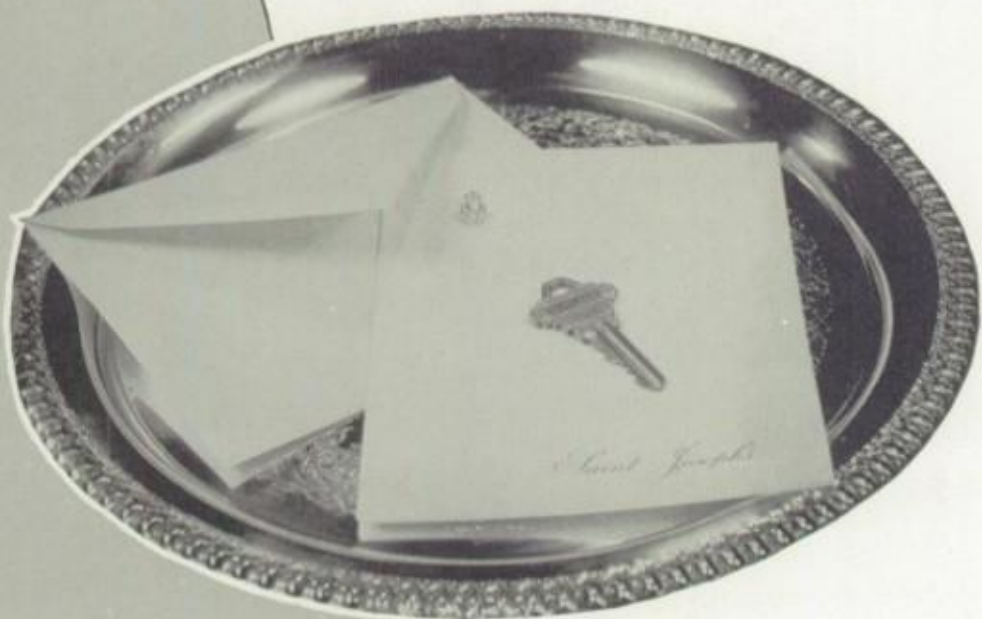

As the summer comes to a close, fall descends upon us. It's back to school again for the students of St. Joseph's. Fall may well be termed the beginning of new things yet to come.

The pep assemblies, dances, and football games add color and excitement to these days.

The sophomores, juniors, and seniors each put forth their renewed efforts in making the year better than previous endeavors.

Fall offers the freshmen a new opportunity to become acquainted with fellow classmates with whom they will share the joys and activities for the eventful years to come.

1857 - CONSTITUTIONAL

DECREE . . .

"The Rules and Constitutions of the Institute or Congregation called Holy Cross and erected in the city of Le Mans, France, having been, upon the presentation of the Reverend Mary Basil Moreau, Superior General of the said Congregation, submitted a first and a second time to a serious examination in a general section of the Sacred Congregation of Propaganda, to the end that the Apostolic See might deign to approve and confirm them, the Most Eminent Fathers, who had already, with the consent of our Most Holy Lord, Pope Pius IX, sanctioned the approbation of the above-mentioned Institute, on June 18, 1855, have likewise decreed the approbation and ratification of its Rules and Constitutions. We testify and witness that the said Rules and Constitutions, by virtue of this present Decree are approved and ratified by the Sacred Congregation; all to the contrary notwithstanding.

Given at Rome, in the Palace of the Sacred Congregation of the Propaganda, May 13, 1857."

"Music for Moderns"

Mary Jane Anthony and Tom Sikora take a bow after their duet, "Hello Young Lovers."

The first Finale featured an electrifying combination of modern interpretive dancing backed by the Glee Club's vibrant "Halleluiah Chorus" under the direction of Mrs. Marie Hardy.

The breath-taking Grande Finale rendered a memorable impression on the audience with the solemn strains of "Bless This House" as the fitting conclusion to the combined efforts of the Fine Arts Department of St. Joseph's High School.

This year marks the Hundredth Anniversary of the Papal Approbation of the Constitutions of the Congregation to which the Brothers belong. The Decree, just quoted, was the official announcement by which the Holy See formally approved this religious society.

The Congregation is made up of two societies: a Priests' Society called the Salvatorists of Holy Cross and a Brothers' Society, known as Josephites of Holy Cross. The Society of Brothers was founded by the Rev. James Dujarie in 1820 and the Society of Priests by Abbe Basil Moreau in 1836. In 1837, these two societies were united under the name of the Association of Holy Cross, with Father Moreau as the first Superior General. The name is derived from the little suburb of Holy Cross, near Le Mans, France, where the novitiate of the Association was located. With the Holy See's approval of the Constitutions in 1857, the name, Congregation of Holy Cross (C. S. C.) was adopted.

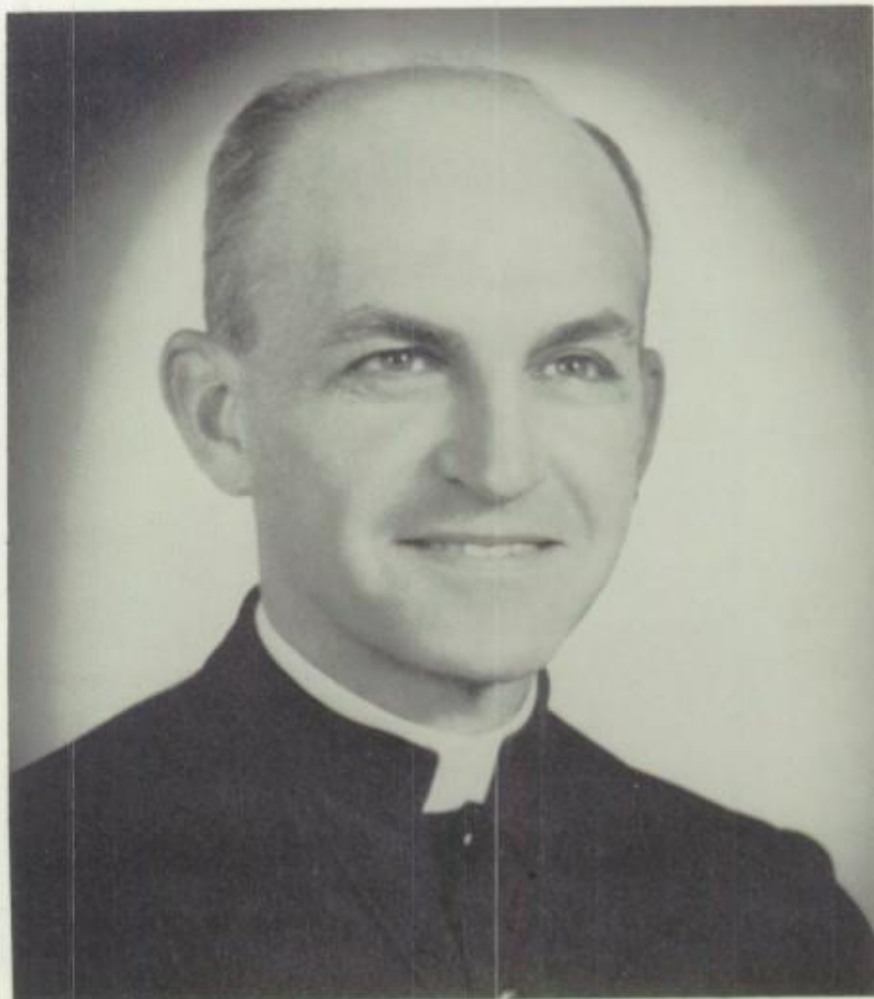

As stated in its Constitutions, the Congregation has for its special end, "the sanctification of souls by the ecclesiastical ministry, particularly the preaching of the work of God—(and) Christian education and instruction through teaching." To achieve this end, the Religious of Holy Cross have labored in many nations for the good of souls. They first came to the United States in 1841, and 1842 to Notre Dame, Indiana. Today, Holy Cross Religious are found in Brazil, Canada, Chile, France, India, Italy, and Africa. The University of Notre Dame, the Oratory of Saint Joseph in Montreal, the Family Rosary Crusade, conducted by these religious, have achieved international prominence.

Congratulations to all Holy Cross Priests and Brothers on the occasion of the Centenary! Let each student here, benefiting from the works of the Congregation, make it a special duty to pray that the work of the Church, entrusted to Holy Cross, may continue to flourish for God's Glory and for the sanctification of souls.

Faculty

"'Tis education forms the common mind: Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined." And so it is that our faculty, to whom we owe a tremendous debt of gratitude, instructs us to follow in the footsteps of Christ. As they have taught us, so may we also teach others by our example and our deeds. To these, our leaders, go our respect, obedience, and fidelity. They have dedicated their lives to God for the purpose of training and teaching us. Their instruction and direction have helped to form good, Catholic citizens of the future.

Athletic Banquet

Some four hundred loyal St. Joe football and basketball fans attended the fourth annual athletic banquet in the school cafeteria. The banquet is held yearly to honor those who have participated in the athletic program at St. Joseph's. It is the purpose of the banquet to recognize their achievements and to award letters to the players.

Coach Bob Jauron of St. Joseph's College, Rensselaer, Indiana, who directed the Puma football team to an undefeated season and to the small college championship, was the principal speaker. He stressed the necessity of teamwork and desire as the ingredients for success.

Toastmaster Edward "Moose" Krause of Notre Dame fame did an excellent job in introducing the speakers and guests.

Brother Alexius commended the team on their fine performance and revealed the '57 schedule, which was very formidable. Later, Coach George Kelly introduced his players and expressed optimistic hopes for the coming season. The Honorable Edward F. Voorde, Mayor of South Bend, also expressed his congratulations to the team.

The repeated success of the athletic banquet is another indication of things to come; namely, that as in all things, St. Joseph's is also destined to be the very best in athletics.

Freshman - Sophomore Declamation Contest

In promoting interest in scholastic achievement, the members of the Sophomore and Freshman English classes participated in its second annual declamation contest.

Before an assembly of both classes the selections given varied from humorous poetry to serious prose. The judges, chosen from the faculty, had some difficulty in eliminating all but three of the contestants. It was evident to all that the speakers, the elite of the oratorical circle, had spent much time and practice in their presentations.

In the Sophomore division the final decision rested upon Ron Gerencher who gave a brilliant interpretation of Shakespeare's prologue to "Richard III." His dramatic style and resonance clinched the title from his two close adversaries, Dave Deka and Archie Jeffers whose declamations were "Chicago" by Carl Sandburg and "Long John Silver" by John Masefield respectively.

In the Freshman division, John Crowley's presentation of Tennyson's "Charge of the Light Brigade" won the unanimous decision for first place. Tom Serge's convincing and comical presentation of "The Cremation of Sam McGee" followed in second place, with Robert Blackwood's delivery of "Gunga Din" by Rudyard Kipling in third place.

Junior Prom

On May 10, 1957, the class of '58 presented its Junior Prom amid the enchanting atmosphere of a "Parisian Paradise." Upon arrival couples were met by a Garcon attired in a costume befitting the occasion. At the head of the stairs stood the Arc de Triomphe through which all guests passed upon entrance to the dance floor. On stage the Eiffel Tower rose high above the Mickey Isley orchestra which was providing the music. Descending into Cafe Continental, guests were escorted to tables covered by red and white checked tablecloths. In the center of each the flickering flames of the candles danced from their positions atop the champagne bottles. Tiny replicas of the Eiffel Tower enclosing perfume bottles served as favors. At eleven o'clock the crowning of the king and queen took place. After being chosen, Paul Menucci and Nancy Tepe led everyone in the Grand March. Midnight came all too soon for the happy tourists as they regretfully took leave of a wonderful Parisian holiday.

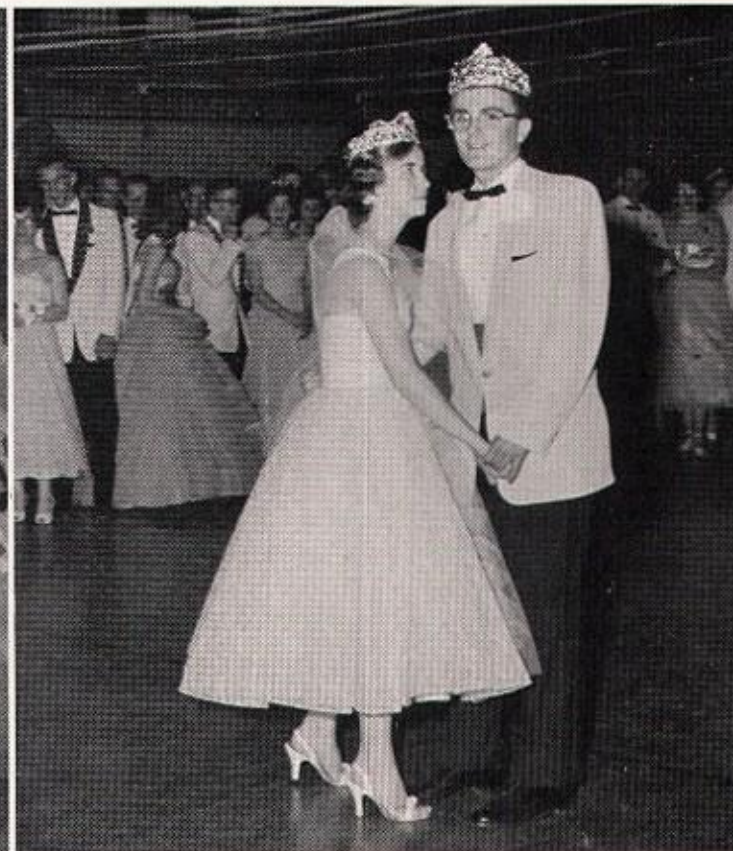

Susie Benko, Dennis Van Poppel, Judy Tennyson, and Mike Russo make their grand appearance for the "Parisian Paradise."

Senior Ball

Dancing through the misty depths of a nautical kingdom, the Seniors and their dates spent an unforgettable evening from nine to twelve o'clock on Friday, May 24, 1957. Providing the music for this gala event was Louise Hubbard and her band. The scene was set amidst multi-colored fish and sea nets. Complementing these decorations were favors of minute lighthouses, sail boats and sea shells which adorned each table. A treasure chest of "precious" jewels added a sparkling touch to the stage. Viewing the spectacle from her position overlooking the wishing pond was the statue of the Blessed Virgin, enclosed in a grotto of sea shells. The evening was climaxed by the coronation of the King and Queen. As the clock struck twelve the many Cinderellas and their princes regretfully took leave of the rapturous "Nautical Nocturne."

King Joe Simeri and Queen Eleanor Cwiklinski attracted much attention during the dance of the court.

Redskin Relays

Under the sponsorship of the Boys Senate, the annual Redskin Relays were held on May 15th, during the afternoon school session. The Juniors soundly defeated the Seniors by a score of 57 to 32. Three days later, on the second day of the Relays, the Sophomores toppled the Freshmen.

The Relays, which were a popular tradition carried over from Central Catholic High, have become equally popular at St. Joseph's. The mere fact of escaping three hours of school time, put everyone in a happy mood. With such events as the three-legged race, the Tug-O-War, softball, and volleyball games, interest and enthusiasm ran high all afternoon. The racing events were a top attraction, and frequently determined the winner of the events. Softball was the final event of the afternoon.

There is little doubt that the Relays are here to stay and become a real tradition in the school.

Father John Vrabely addressing the student body during the High Mass which opened the school year.

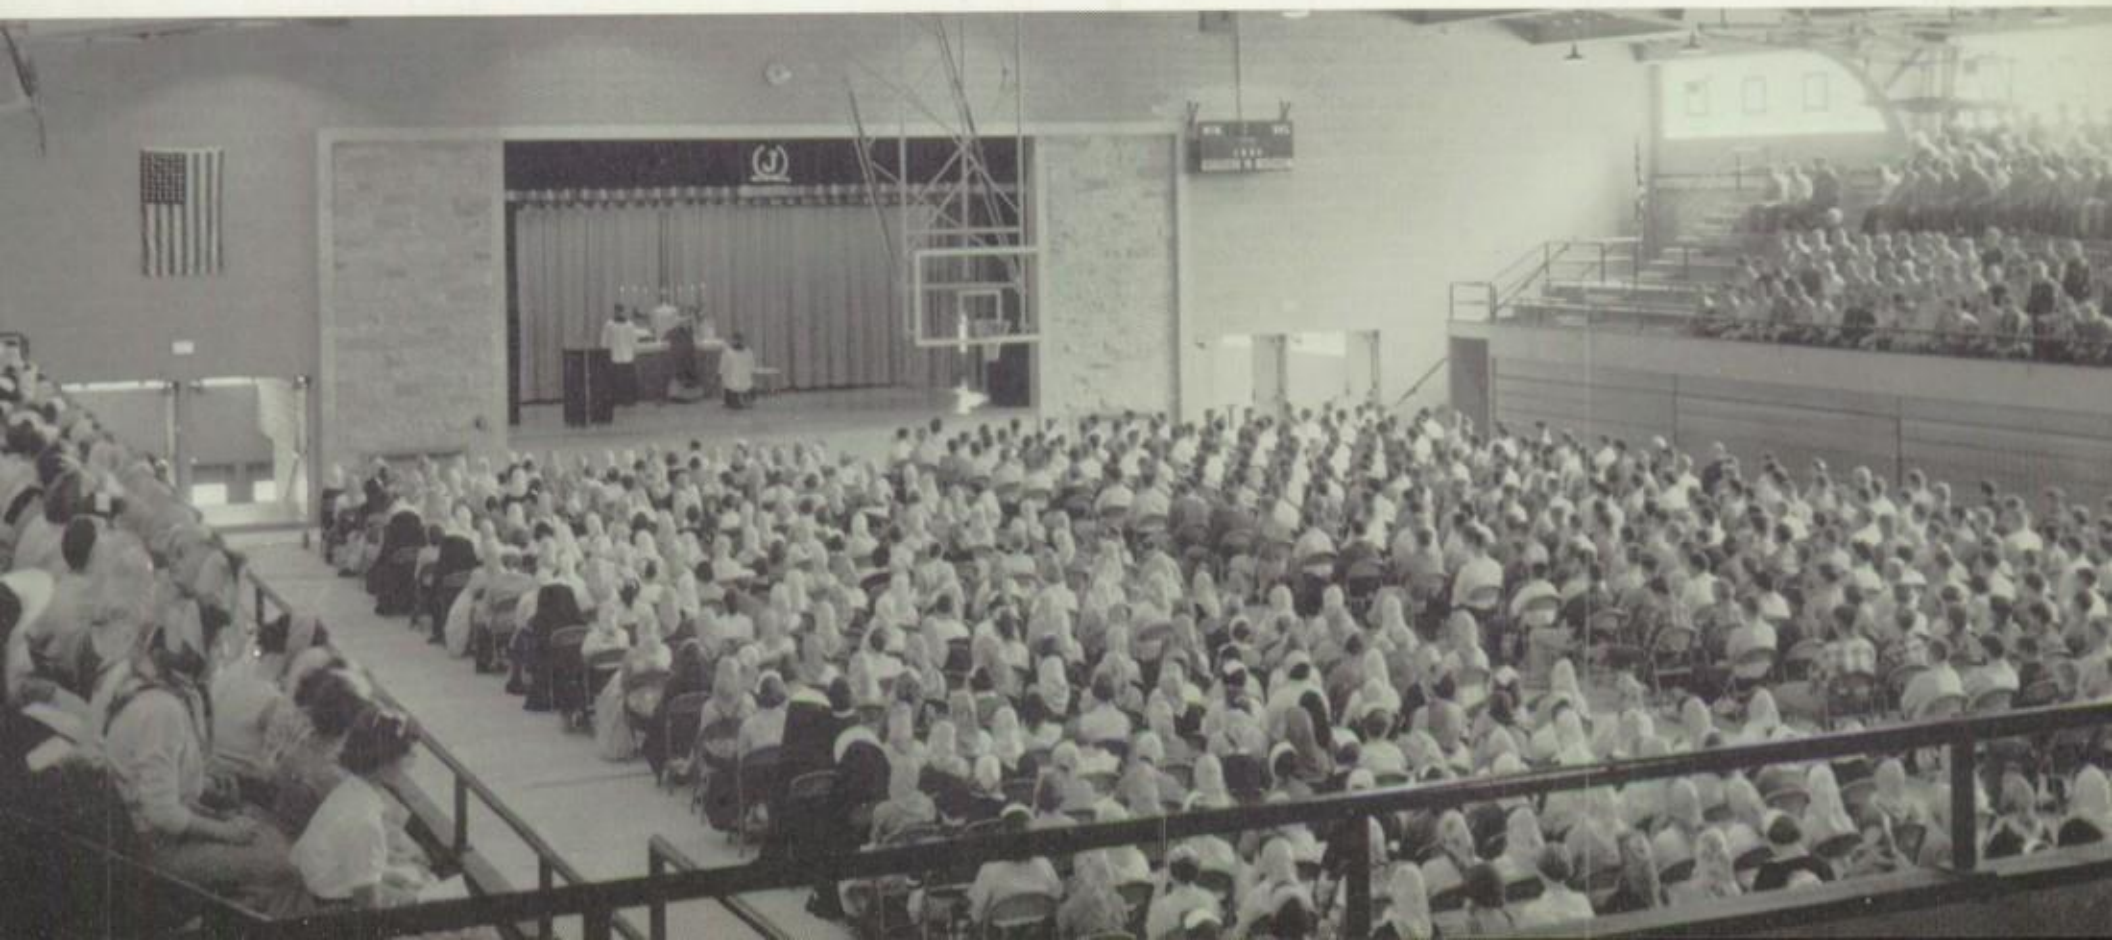

THE OPENING MASS

To initiate the 1957—58 school year, Father Vrabely offered a High Mass before the entire student body in the school auditorium.

Father's sermon was directed at showing how the privileges of a Catholic education entail corresponding responsibilities on the part of each and every student. The major responsibility is to adhere to the laws that the school deems necessary in protecting the privileges already acquired.

The entire school year was then dedicated to St. Joseph, Patron of our school, followed by the Consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

THIS IS HOW IT ALL BEGAN.

In early September some one thousand four hundred and fifty students trudged with lagging footsteps to the schoolhouse on the corners of Michigan and Angela to register for nine months of athletic activities, school clubs, bus trips, socials, and—studies. All of the filing, scheduling, name-taking, and checking was new to incoming freshmen; but to those returning, a note of familiarity was again being struck. It would not be long before the unfamiliar and familiar would mix, and the challenge of the classroom and its activities would be met by all who would roam our corridors for the 1957-58 school year.

This is only one of the many census cards to be filled out during your stay at St. Joseph's.

Class conflicts and reschedulings are not the enjoyable task that Bob Myers thinks it is.

"So you're going to chance it again."

SILVER

Miss Ann Marger expressing her gratitude to all who helped make her jubilee celebration a momentous occasion in her life.

JUBILEE

For Faithful Service

At the near close of the 1957 school year, Miss Ann Marger, celebrated her silver anniversary in the nursing profession. This marked twenty-five years of faithful service to a number of city schools. The Faculty and a group of close friends and associates gave a dinner in her honor in the school cafeteria to celebrate this event. Dr. F. R. Nicholas Carter of the South Bend Department of Public Health was one of several speakers.

Miss Marger is known throughout the school as that patient, cheerful person who sacrifices her own comfort for the well-being of others. During the flu epidemic of the 1957 fall semester, she offered her undivided attention to the students of St. Joseph's. Never tiring of her mission, she worked relentlessly for the welfare of all, sometimes even neglecting her personal attention.

We owe our deepest gratitude and heartfelt thanks to our school nurse, Miss Marger, who has contributed so much to the benefit of the entire school.

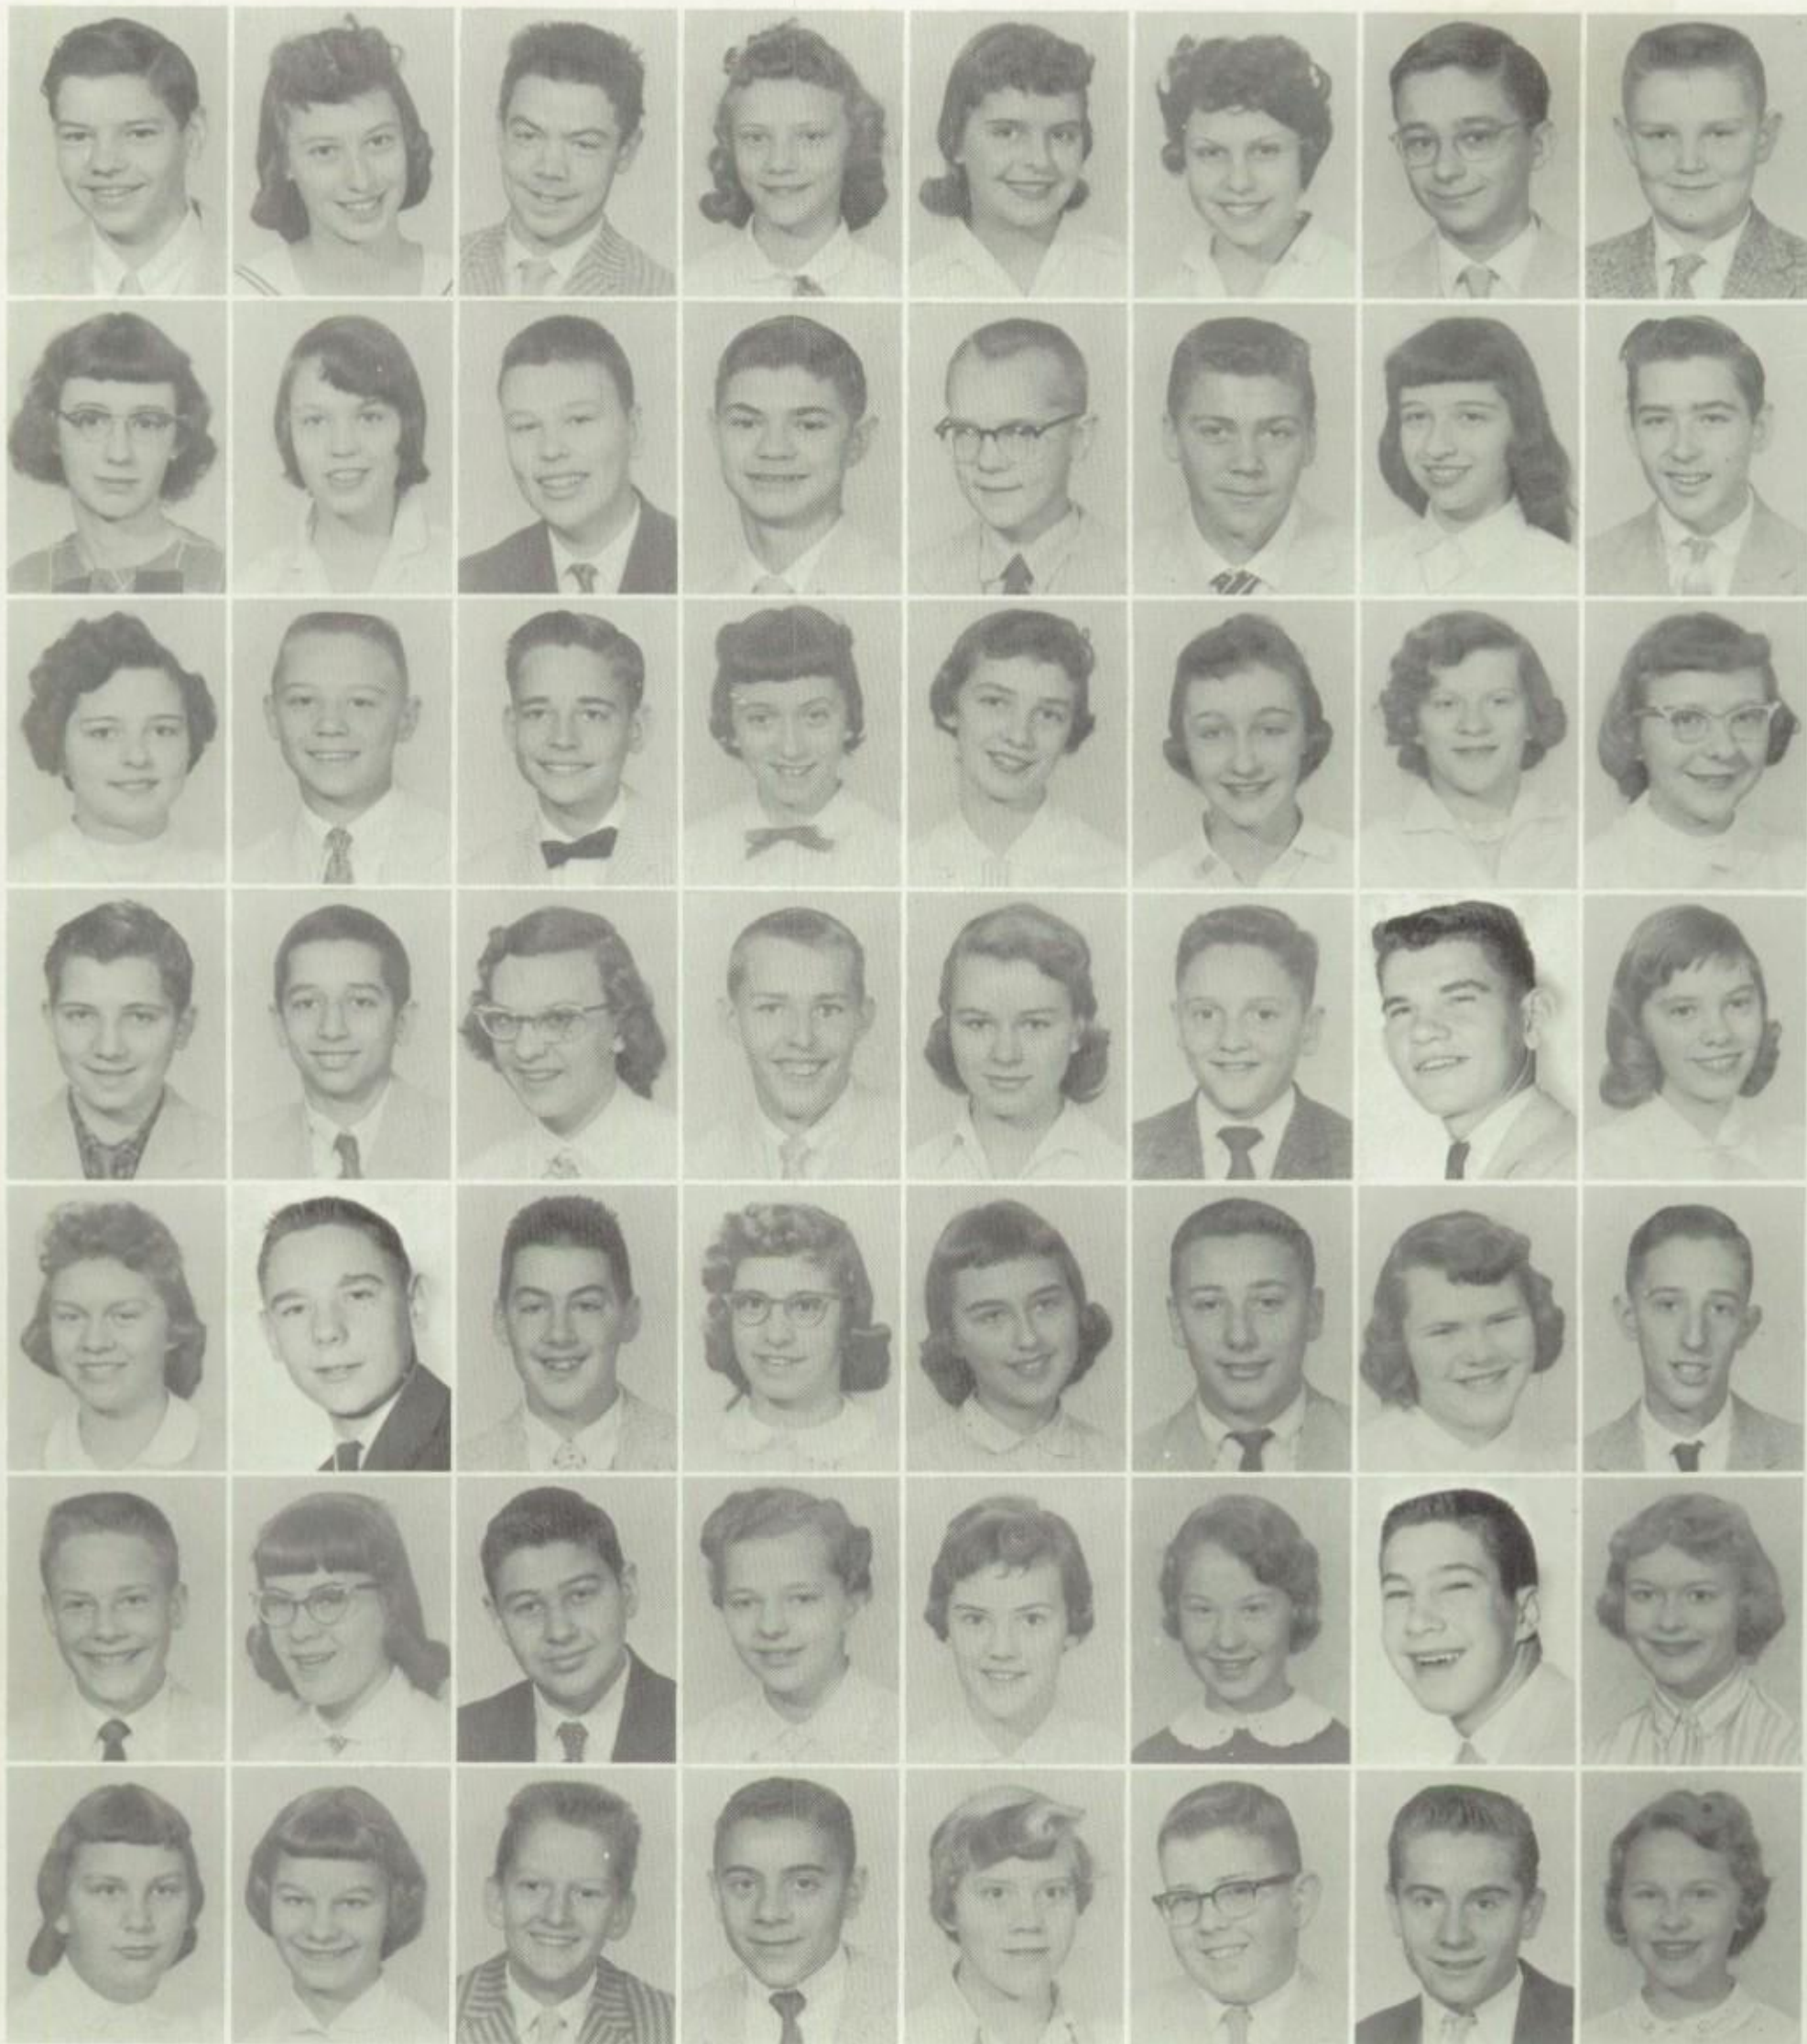

Hearing tests are only a part of the many duties taken on by Miss Marger during the school year.

The FRESHMEN have had their first glimpse of the key to success. The enthusiasm with which they have begun their quest for these keys and accepted the challenge put to them by those who have preceded them at St. Joseph's, offers concrete proof of great things to come. They may stumble a few times in their long drive, but it is hoped, that by the time they become upperclassmen, they will have a tight grip on the precious keys to the future and that they will use them to their greatest advantage.

AWARDS DAY

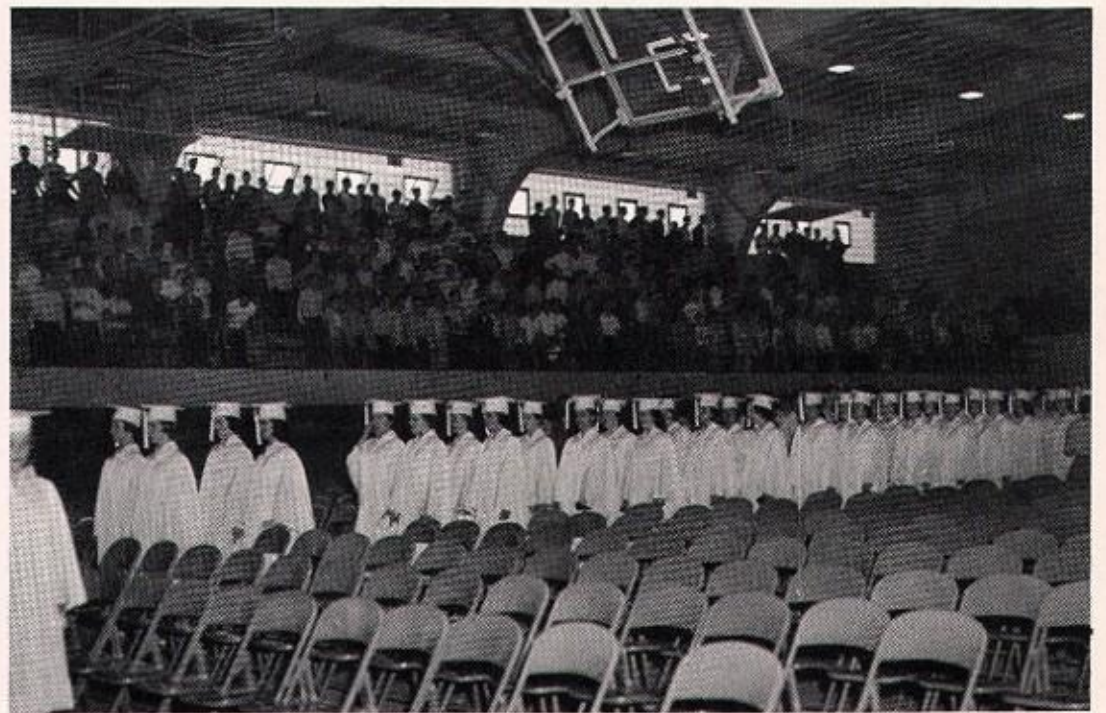

At the close of each year, recognition is given to those students who have achieved excellence in their class work, activities, or leadership. Each student that does his or her best in striving for the goals of a true Catholic education deserves this special praise and recognition. It is regretted that all who have put forth their best efforts cannot be recognized in a similar way. However, each Class Day represents a milestone in the intellectual growth of St. Joseph's High School, made possible by those who have realized their life's ambitions and have seriously worked toward that end.

This year marks the Hundredth Anniversary of the Papal Approbation of the Constitutions of the Congregation to which the Brothers belong. The Decree, just quoted, was the official announcement by which the Holy See formally approved this religious society.

The Congregation is made up of two societies: a Priests' Society called the Salvatorists of Holy Cross and a Brothers' Society, known as Josephites of Holy Cross. The Society of Brothers was founded by the Rev. James Dujarie in 1820 and the Society of Priests by Abbe Basil Moreau in 1836. In 1837, these two societies were united under the name of the Association of Holy Cross, with Father Moreau as the first Superior General. The name is derived from the little suburb of Holy Cross, near Le Mans, France, where the novitiate of the Association was located. With the Holy See's approval of the Constitutions in 1857, the name, Congregation of Holy Cross (C. S. C.) was adopted.

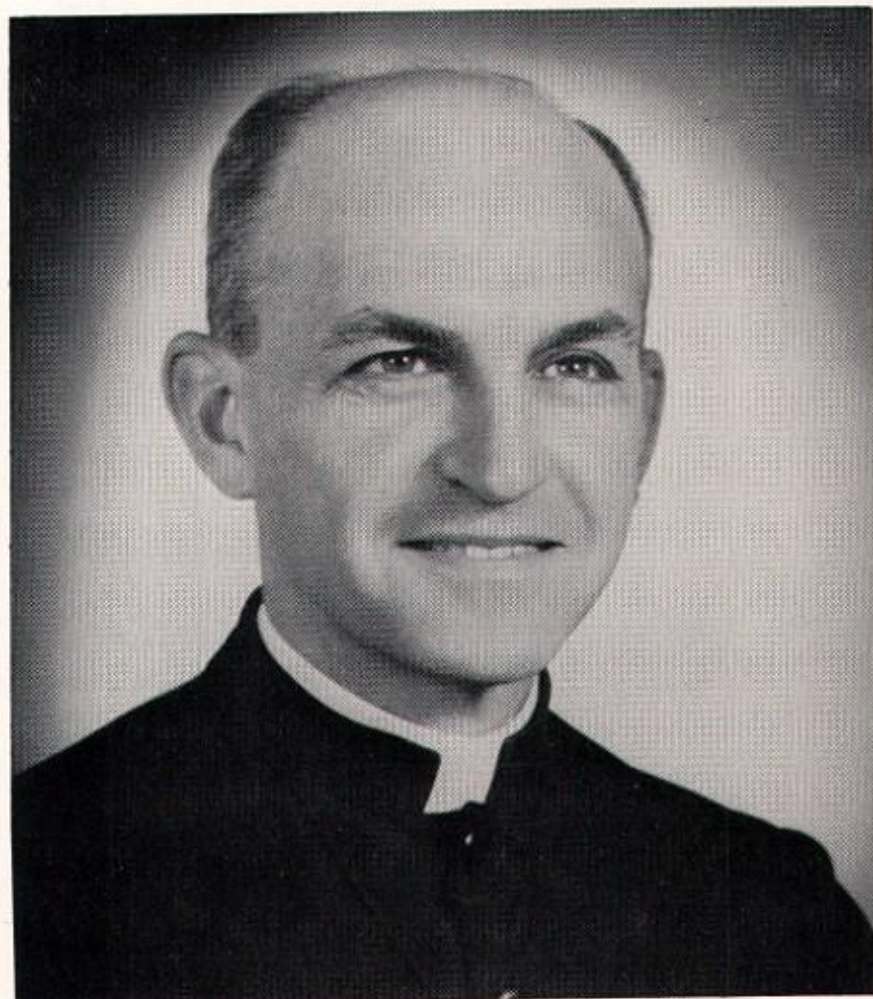

As stated in its Constitutions, the Congregation has for its special end, "the sanctification of souls by the ecclesiastical ministry, particularly the preaching of the work of God—(and) Christian education and instruction through teaching." To achieve this end, the Religious of Holy Cross have labored in many nations for the good of souls. They first came to the United States in 1841, and 1842 to Notre Dame, Indiana. Today, Holy Cross Religious are found in Brazil, Canada, Chile, France, India, Italy, and Africa. The University of Notre Dame, the Oratory of Saint Joseph in Montreal, the Family Rosary Crusade, conducted by these religious, have achieved international prominence.

Congratulations to all Holy Cross Priests and Brothers on the occasion of the Centenary! Let each student here, benefiting from the works of the Congregation, make it a special duty to pray that the work of the Church, entrusted to Holy Cross, may continue to flourish for God's Glory and for the sanctification of souls.

CENTENARY - 1957

Faculty

"'Tis education forms the common mind: Just as the twig is bent the tree's inclined." And so it is that our faculty, to whom we owe a tremendous debt of gratitude, instructs us to follow in the footsteps of Christ. As they have taught us, so may we also teach others by our example and our deeds. To these, our leaders, go our respect, obedience, and fidelity. They have dedicated their lives to God for the purpose of training and teaching us. Their instruction and direction have helped to form good, Catholic citizens of the future.

The SOPHOMORES of St. Joseph's have come a long way in their search for the key to success. A vision of potential greatness and success is taking shape in their young minds. Already they have proved their ambitions, abilities, and leadership. If they live up to expectations in the next two years, the sophomores should set quite a precedent for those following them.

The JUNIORS have been quick to take up their key to success. Since their freshman year, they have been labeled "the most active in the school." This class not only has maintained, but has helped to set the high educational, moral, physical, and particularly, the social standards of St. Joseph's. With the key to the future in their hands and a still brighter senior year to look forward to, greater things may be expected from this class.

Father John Vrabely addressing the student body during the High Mass which opened the school year.

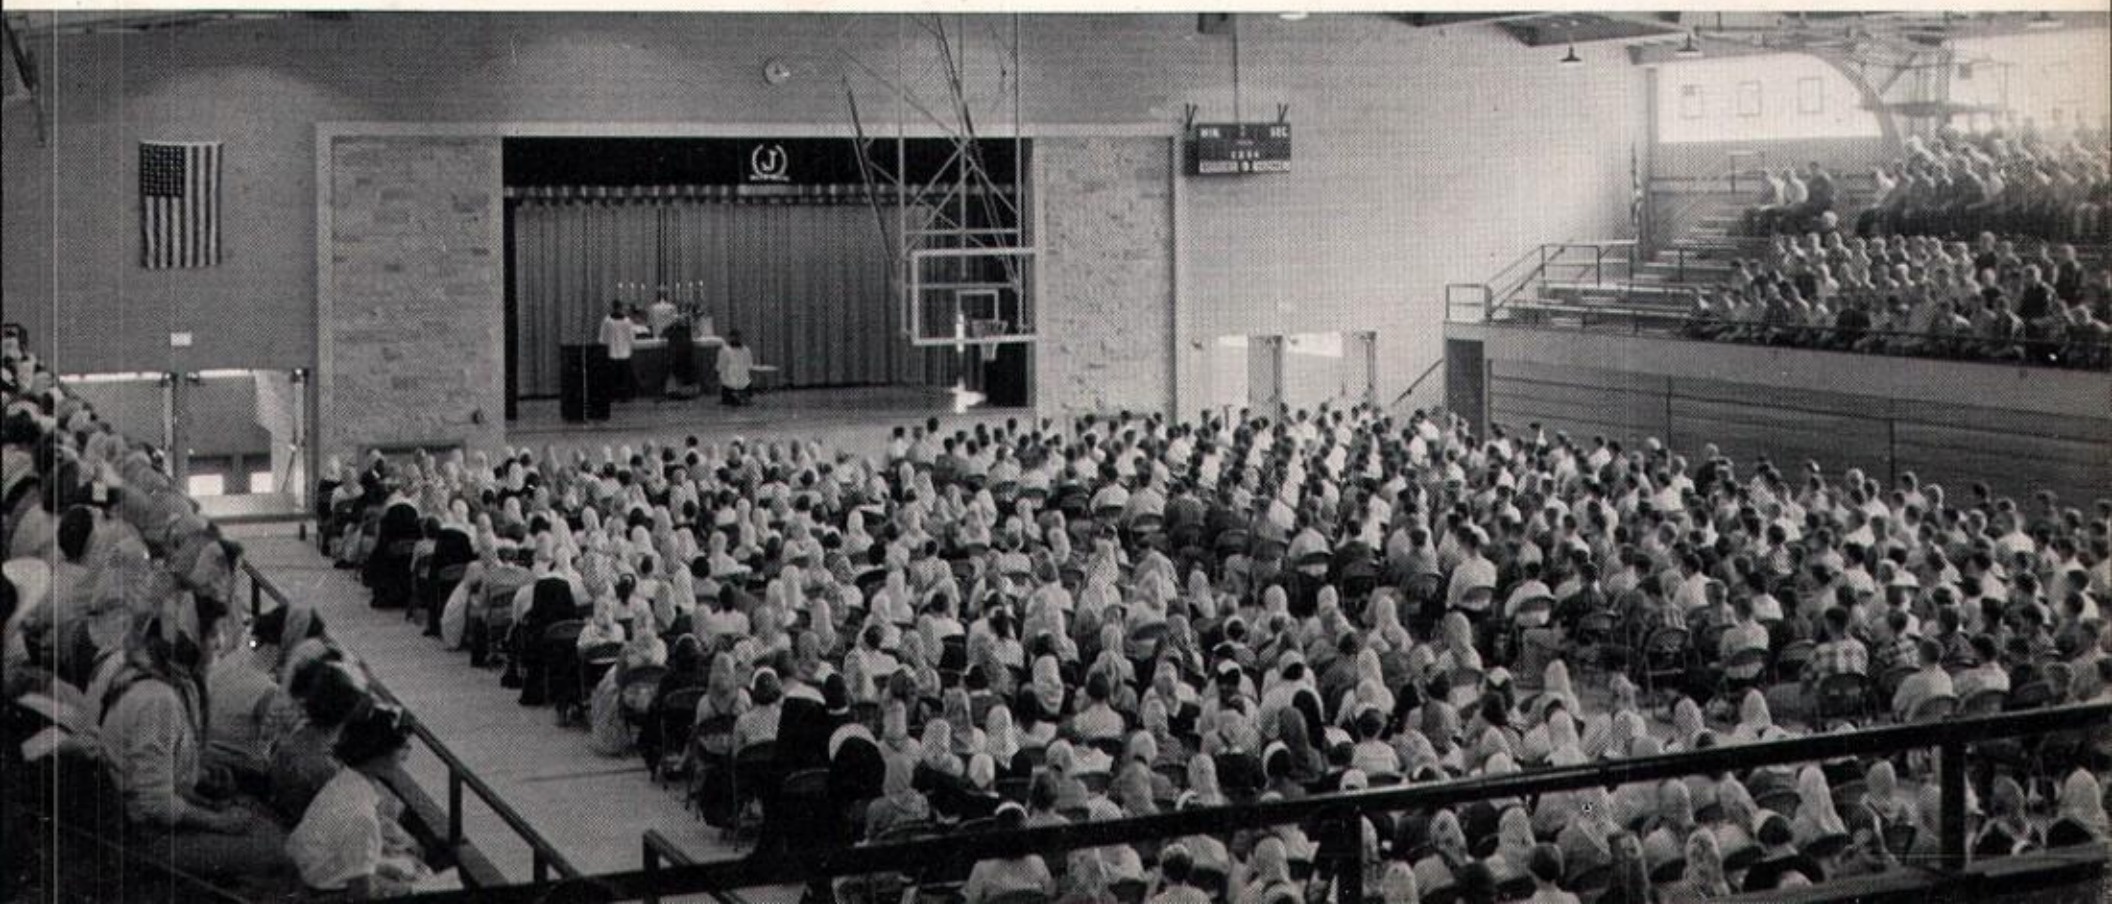

THE OPENING MASS

To initiate the 1957—58 school year, Father Vrabely offered a High Mass before the entire student body in the school auditorium.

Father's sermon was directed at showing how the privileges of a Catholic education entail corresponding responsibilities on the part of each and every student. The major responsibility is to adhere to the laws that the school deems necessary in protecting the privileges already acquired.

The entire school year was then dedicated to St. Joseph, Patron of our school, followed by the Consecration to the Immaculate Heart of Mary.

THIS IS HOW IT ALL BEGAN.

In early September some one thousand four hundred and fifty students trudged with lagging footsteps to the schoolhouse on the corners of Michigan and Angela to register for nine months of athletic activities, school clubs, bus trips, socials, and—studies. All of the filing, scheduling, name-taking, and checking was new to incoming freshmen; but to those returning, a note of familiarity was again being struck. It would not be long before the unfamiliar and familiar would mix, and the challenge of the classroom and its activities would be met by all who would roam our corridors for the 1957-58 school year.

This is only one of the many census cards to be filled out during your stay at St. Joseph's.

Class conflicts and reschedulings are not the enjoyable task that Bob Myers thinks it is.

"So you're going to chance it again."

The FRESHMEN have had their first glimpse of the key to success. The enthusiasm with which they have begun their quest for these keys and accepted the challenge put to them by those who have preceded them at St. Joseph's, offers concrete proof of great things to come. They may stumble a few times in their long drive, but it is hoped, that by the time they become upperclassmen, they will have a tight grip on the precious keys to the future and that they will use them to their greatest advantage.

FALL SEMESTER IN ACTION

Football Assemblies

Things really began to happen when the pre-football game assemblies echoed throughout the gym. The unforgettable pom-pom display of the senior assembly, the man-on-the street routine of the junior assembly, and the magic brew of things to come of the sophomore assembly highlighted the major contests of the season. Mayor Voorde, Joe Boland, and Joe McArdle were among the distinguished guests who added words of encouragement and best wishes to a round of assemblies that will long be remembered by the all at St. Joseph's.

UPPER LEFT: Kathy Trace, Maureen Simmons, and Karen Wunsch stirred the brew that predicted good fortune with the compliments of the sophomore class.

Head Coach Dick Friend was in the limelight of each assembly.

St. Joseph's "Indians"

The St. Joseph's Indians, trained by the coaching staff of Dick Friend and his assistants, Don Huml and Angelo Turco, compiled a respectable 4-4 record during the 1957 season. The Indians, meeting some of the best football competition in two states, showed the fighting spirit we have been led to expect from St. Joe teams.

Our fired-up Indians won the season's opener from Mishawaka, the first time the Maroons had lost an opening game in seven years. Coach Friend got his Indians as spirited as they were all year; this fact is proved by the way the Saints charged back in the final quarter after a tying touchdown by the Cavemen. Kevin Weinberg left his shoe with some disgusted Maroons while he scrambled through for an important first down from a desperate punt formation. A few plays later, Steve Steinhoffer scampered around right end for the winning touchdown.

The next game was not much fun for the Indians. The Blue Blazers, with their best team in years, forced a very stubborn Indian team down to defeat. The Indian line led by Dick Bubick, Paul Costello, and Harlan Noel forced Elkhart to take to the air for their victory.

The Fort Wayne C.C. game proved to be quite a surprise. The fired-up Irish defense contained our normally strong offensive unit. Terrific defensive play by Clyde Remmo and Jim Gruber kept the Irish down to thirteen points. The sputtering St. Joe offensive got a touchdown right after halftime and raced twenty yards for the winning score — ala Jim Jack.

St. Joe next met the mighty, mighty Bears, who unfortunately were at the height of their power. The

Sister Frances Paula's Freshman Religion class can sincerely boast that the Church is the "Mother of the Arts."

Grid Season Review

Saints showed a powerful offense in the air, but couldn't sustain more than one drive. The defense was unable to contain Central's backs and so a fighting St. Joe succumbed very unwillingly to the Bears.

After Central, the Warriors lost a bout to an enemy who downed everybody it met—the Asiatic flu. The Benton Harbor game was cancelled.

St. Joe took out their ire for the Central defeat on their namesakes from Michigan. After a back-and-forth first half, the Indians took charge and proved themselves the better team. Bob Dygulski was the "big gun," being on the receiving end of Steinhoffer's pinpoint passes.

Washington, the sleeper of the city schools, showed that they were as good as they were rated. St. Joe's Warriors saved the game from being a total loss, since they were the first Indian team in the school's history to score on Washington.

The Saints then traveled to Whiting where they vented their troubles on a hapless Oiler team. Co-captain Tom "Tank" Lower really led his charges with an example of three touchdowns for them to follow. Ron Gerencher was the defensive standout in this game. This was without a doubt the best game that the Indians played all year.

The final game of the year was a disappointment to all Indian fans, but especially to the seniors who witnessed a game similar to this one when they played their first varsity game.

Games are lost and won, but the spirit of the St. Joe Indians will ever be a credit to those who will play varsity in the years to come.

Wrestling Team

This year marked the advent of Wrestling at St. Joseph's High. With no previous experience the Indians, ably coached by Mr. Friend, battled many of the strongest squads in the area. Adding strength and know-how as they struggled along, the Saints finished the season as a tested and capable team. Since freshmen and sophomores compose a marked majority of the teams, St. Joe will prove a dangerous opponent to all in the future.

Mr. Chuck Henszy ably assisted Mr. Dick Friend in preparing the team for its stiff competition.

Douglas Petersen holds his opponent for an undisputed pin.

SKATING PARTIES

A steady hum deadens all other sound as the skating party commences. At first the turns are very difficult, and the skaters will seem concentrated on conquering the floor boards. When the rhythmic organ music pours from the stage, the skaters lose their initial shakiness until the first one falls. No one stays down for long, but perhaps he spends some practice time on the beginners side before re-entering the more proficient stream. However, beginners or professionals have spent many rolling hours at our "Skating Parties."

The Boys' Senate is organized to develop a closer relationship between the administration and the student body. Directed by Brother Wilbert, C.S.C., faculty sponsor, and led by Harlan Noel, senate president, the Senate held frequent meetings wherein student representatives voiced their constructive suggestions and criticisms for the betterment of the school. During the year, the Senate organized and directed the November Skating Party, the Semester Swing, the Intramural Basketball program, and the annual collection of food for the poor at Christmas.

Girls' Student Senate

Under the guidance of Sister Mary Marcian, C.S.C., faculty moderator, and Gretchen Kintz, senate president, representatives from each home-room attended weekly meetings in order to discuss school business. The matter presented at these meetings was brought to the attention of the Senate by means of suggestion boxes. The main objective of the Senate was to promote harmony and a closer bond between the faculty and student body.

The Pre-Mardi-Gras Style Show, sponsored by the Girl's Senate, highlighted the dreams of styles yet to come.

The time and effort put forth in preparing this book can only be realized by the enjoyment derived by its readers.

The "city room" in the library is the home of the Hi-Lite. Put out by twenty-five students, the publication steadily grows in size and news content. The nucleus of the paper is two seniors, and two juniors, who received special journalistic training at Indiana University last summer.

To celebrate the Hi-Lite's fifth birthday, the staff, under the direction of Sister Louis Irene, expanded the size of the paper by adding a fifth column on the face of the pages.

The Hi-Lite has its problems as any paper. Because the staff is limited to five issues a year, the Hi-Lite is a historical account of the school rather than a "newsy" paper.

Amid flying stencils, chattering typewriters, and stuttering staplers, the weekly edition of the Quiver was published. St. Joseph's students played an important part in the activities of the N.C.C.J. The annual institute, in which most of the area high schools were represented, was held in the Little Theater of our school. During the year this group of boys and girls discussed the social problems of the day, and among the many projects, helped to produce a skit on "Brotherhood." The work of the group was climaxed in a telecast in which the members described the goals and achievements of this very active local conference.

DANCES

Swing, Boy, Swing! And swing we did, at the "Indian Summer Swing." The students, led by the Senior Class, formed a large circle and danced, keeping time to the music of Billy Nicks. Football came and left, but not without due tribute paid to the team by the "Football Farewell" dance given by the Juniors.

The year has gone by, but not without regret. It has been a year of fun and enjoyment in the social life of a St. Joe student.

April Manford and Frank Papp seem to enjoy the social life in a more relaxed manner.

This Rock 'n Roll takes its toll of wear and tear after three hours of hopping.

Odile MacAllister, Kathy Hosinski, Tom Lower and Harlan Noel find the cafeteria's atmosphere as pleasant as any.

... And we danced all night.

The cold winds of winter fill the air with snow flurries and the students of St. Joseph's find themselves rapidly approaching the mid-point in another eventful school year.

For the Freshmen, this season brings the first opportunity to attend the annual high school retreat. They join the Sophomores in taking three days out for meditation and prayer immediately before Christmas.

The Junior and Senior holiday parties high-lighted the social life as the year draws to a close.

One of the year's top attractions, "The Mardi Gras Mystery," headlines the banner of social events during the winter season.

In athletics, St. Joseph's saw the beginning of a promising new sport, wrestling, and near perfection in another sport, basketball. The Indian cagers compiled a tremendous record never before achieved by a St. Joe athletic team and thus gaining state-wide recognition for their school.

Underclassmen Retreat

To the underclassmen of St. Joseph's, this year's retreat was a real change from the regular curricular activities preceding it.

Although the retreat was a new experience for most of the freshmen, they entered into the true spirit of it and observed all the regulations, including the recommendation for strict silence.

Topics given by the retreat master, Father Aloysius Mehr, O.S.C., were the means of leading a holy life, opportunities for improving spiritual existence, and the reward encountered in heaven after following the suggested means. Father Mehr also explained many of the doubtful subjects that often prove puzzling to many high school students.

Religious Activities

Believing that the development of the soul is just as important as the training of the intellect, the students of St. Joseph's High School participate in the many religious activities of the year in order to increase spiritual growth.

Observance of First Friday devotions, Ash Wednesday, the blessing of throats on the feast of St. Blaise, and the weekly publication of the Religious Bulletin engendered the true spirit of a Catholic education.

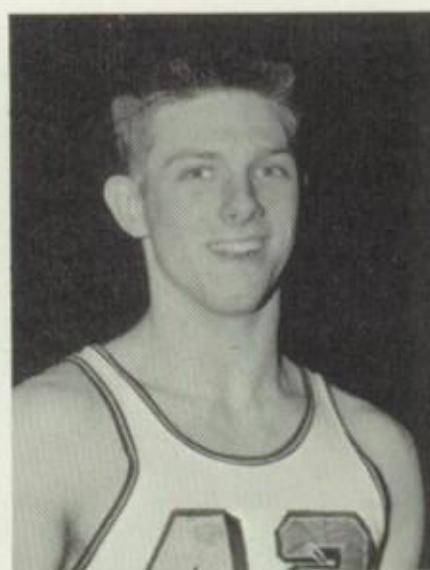

First Friday Mass and Communion. Father Marvin O'Connell, school chaplain, was celebrant at this Mass.

The Basketball Story

As the '57-'58 basketball season drew near, enthusiasm at St. Joseph's with the student body and loyal fans went up, hoping that this was "our year." With four of last year's starting five and all but one of the reserves returning, Coach Angelo Turco anticipated a highly successful campaign.

Boasting one of the tallest front lines in the state (McKenzie, Wroblewski, and O'Keefe) and two of the flashiest guards in the persons of Rick Hafron and Kevin Weinberg, the mighty Indians rolled up an impressive 7-1 record going into the South Bend Holiday Tourney.

determined Greene Township five. However, the curtain reigned down on the Indians' ambitions, as a fired up Adams team, bent on revenge for two previous defeats at the hands of St. Joseph's, stormed from a 13-point deficit to upset the twelfth-ranked Indians.

Thus, the St. Joe cagers closed a magnificent season with an unbelievable record of 22 wins and only 2 defeats, having achieved the ultimate height of a Catholic High School in the history of South Bend.

The final score to the regular season tilt with South Bend Washington. The score stands as record high for any single game played in our gym.

Realizing that this was their long-awaited chance to display their abilities before home-town skeptics, the rampaging Indians ... rampaged. When the smoke had cleared, the now-convinced spectators watched as St. Joe's walked home with their first major tourney championship at the expense of city powers, Adams, Washington, and Riley.

As if still not satisfied with these impressive victories, the Indians determined to wipe out any shadow of doubt as to who was the "City Champ." Sweeping through the rest of their schedule undefeated, claiming triumphs over such powers as Washington, Hammond Noll, Mishawaka, and St. Joseph, Michigan, the undaunted Warriors approached the Sectionals with an air of confidence and expectation.

Their first two opponents in tourney action, namely, Washington-Clay and Riley, fell in the wake of the Indian War Path. Reaching semi-final action on Saturday afternoon, the Indians climbed to unprecedented heights in completely demoralizing a

"Merry Christmas" came the greeting, and the juniors, with the Belvederes supplying the music, shouted it gayly at their first holiday party.

A towering white Christmas tree, adorned with blue lights and ribbons, set the scene for an evening that was hoped to become a class tradition.

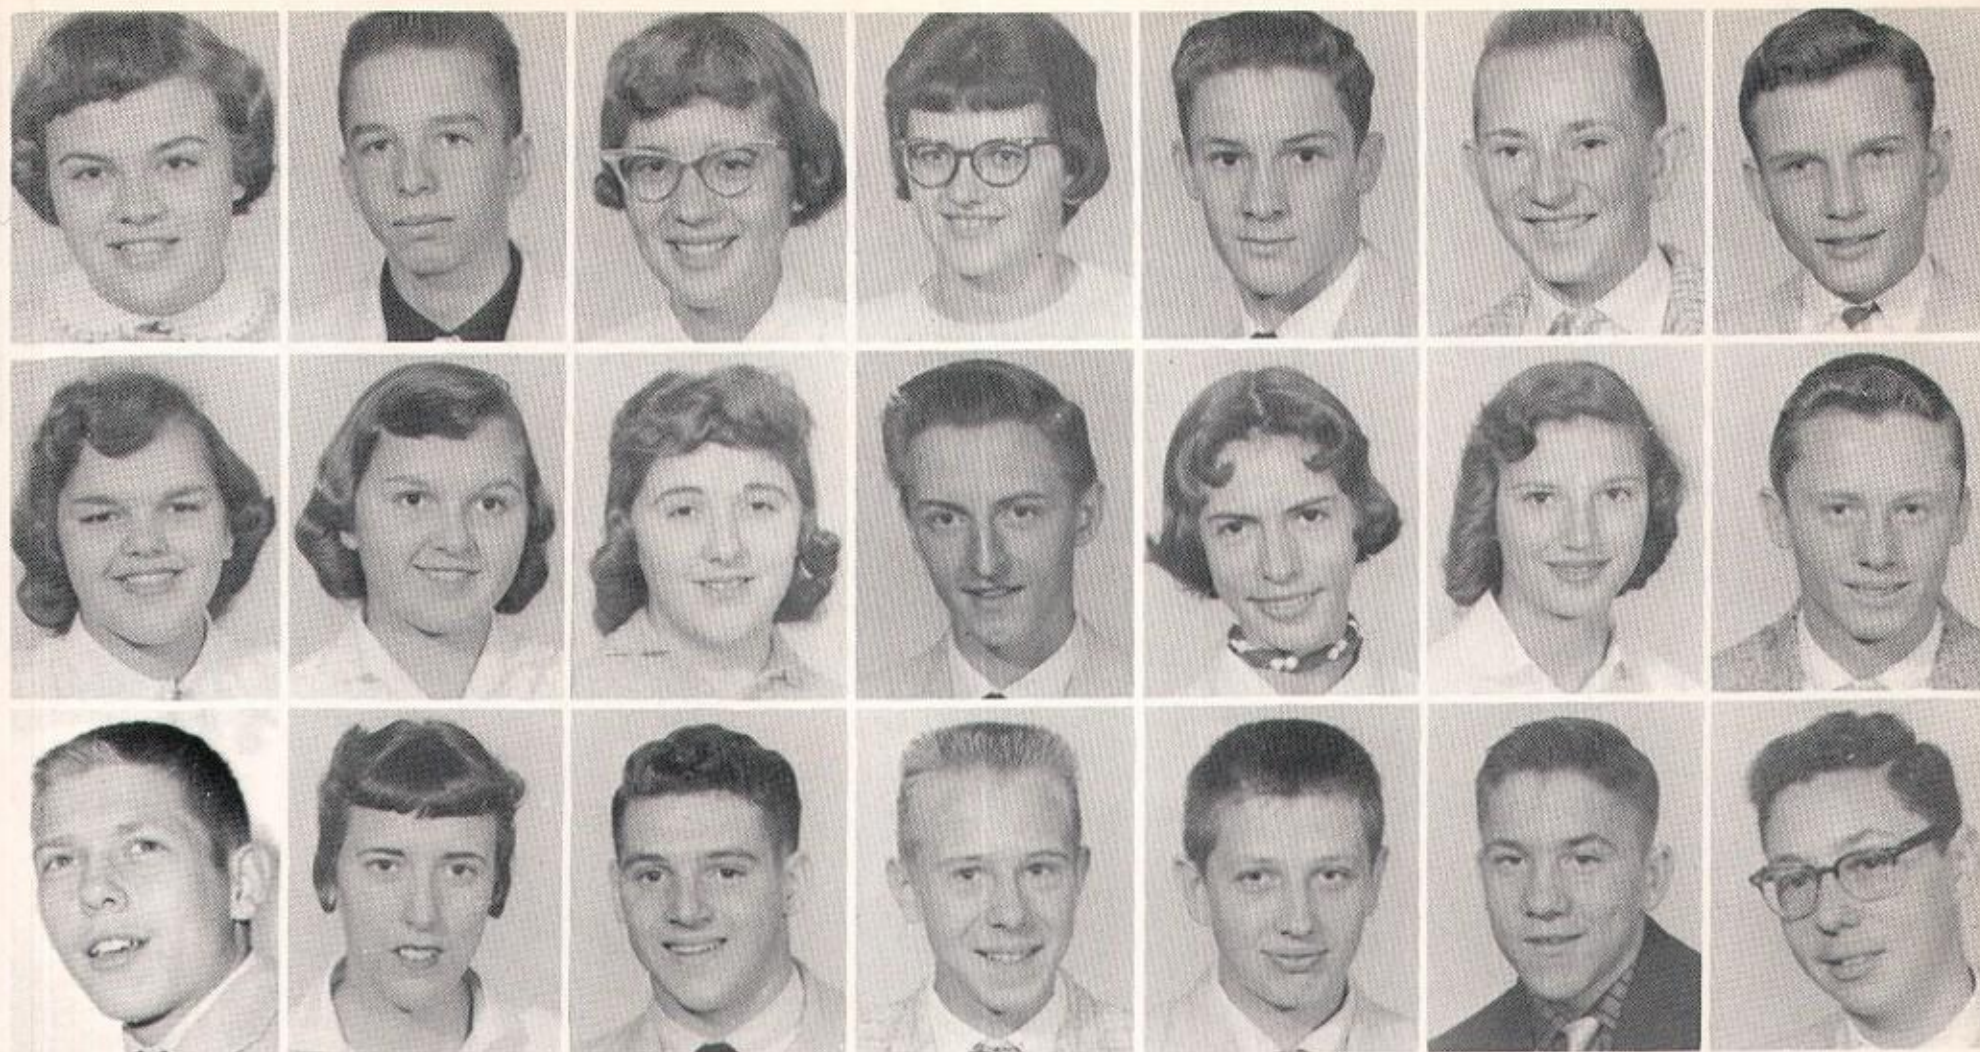

Senior Holiday Party

With "Auld Lang Syne" having been sung and the new year here to stay, the Senior Class went all out with the top bands of America at their holiday get-together.

"Let's Go Strolling" was their cry and so they did, everyone joining in to do the "Stroll."

Satisfied, after the hot pizza and coke, the seniors danced away the remainder of an enjoyable party.

We, the Senior Class, anticipate many things in the years to come. Our key to '58 may open numerous doors to the future. Having come a long way in our four unforgettable years at St. Joseph's, we have learned one thing: "Seek and you shall find, knock and it shall be opened to you." Seeking truth, virtue and knowledge is our proximate vocation. Finding them is our ultimate goal. Our education has bettered us spiritually, socially, mentally, and physically. Here at St. Joseph's we have secured our key to success and happiness for the future.

As we draw near the end of our book, it seems appropriate that we should now bid farewell to the graduating seniors. After four years, they have finally come within reaching distance of the treasured "keys." Their high school career undoubtedly has been difficult and long, but just as assuredly, it has been joyous and filled with memorable events.

The seniors can look back to these past four years with very fond memories—memories they shall carry with them for a long time to come. But this is no time to be looking back to the past. They now stand on the threshold of opportunity, ready to group their keys, to open the "door" to the future, and to use them to their greatest advantage. But it is going through this "door" that the seniors will discover still greater challenges lying ahead.

Indeed, while we bid farewell and good fortune to the 1958 graduates, we shall always cherish those memorable moments with which they have so fittingly left to posterity.

FALL SEMESTER IN ACTION

Football Assemblies

Things really began to happen when the pre-football game assemblies echoed throughout the gym. The unforgettable pom-pom display of the senior assembly, the man-on-the street routine of the junior assembly, and the magic brew of things to come of the sophomore assembly highlighted the major contests of the season. Mayor Voorde, Joe Boland, and Joe McArdle were among the distinguished guests who added words of encouragement and best wishes to a round of assemblies that will long be remembered by the all at St. Joseph's.

Head Coach Dick Friend was in the limelight of each assembly.

St. Joseph's "Indians"

The St. Joseph's Indians, trained by the coaching staff of Dick Friend and his assistants, Don Huml and Angelo Turco, compiled a respectable 4-4 record during the 1957 season. The Indians, meeting some of the best football competition in two states, showed the fighting spirit we have been led to expect from St. Joe teams.

Our fired-up Indians won the season's opener from Mishawaka, the first time the Maroons had lost an opening game in seven years. Coach Friend got his Indians as spirited as they were all year; this fact is proved by the way the Saints charged back in the final quarter after a tying touchdown by the Cavemen. Kevin Weinberg left his shoe with some disgusted Maroons while he scrambled through for an important first down from a desperate punt formation. A few plays later, Steve Steinhoffer scampered around right end for the winning touchdown.

The next game was not much fun for the Indians. The Blue Blazers, with their best team in years, forced a very stubborn Indian team down to defeat. The Indian line led by Dick Bubick, Paul Costello, and Harlan Noel forced Elkhart to take to the air for their victory.

The Fort Wayne C.C. game proved to be quite a surprise. The fired-up Irish defense contained our normally strong offensive unit. Terrific defensive play by Clyde Remmo and Jim Gruber kept the Irish down to thirteen points. The sputtering St. Joe offensive got a touchdown right after halftime and raced twenty yards for the winning score — ala Jim Jack.

St. Joe next met the mighty, mighty Bears, who unfortunately were at the height of their power. The

Grid Season Review

Saints showed a powerful offense in the air, but couldn't sustain more than one drive. The defense was unable to contain Central's backs and so a fighting St. Joe succumbed very unwillingly to the Bears.

After Central, the Warriors lost a bout to an enemy who downed everybody it met—the Asiatic flu. The Benton Harbor game was cancelled.

St. Joe took out their ire for the Central defeat on their namesakes from Michigan. After a back-and-forth first half, the Indians took charge and proved themselves the better team. Bob Dygulski was the "big gun," being on the receiving end of Steinhoffer's pinpoint passes.

Washington, the sleeper of the city schools, showed that they were as good as they were rated. St. Joe's Warriors saved the game from being a total loss, since they were the first Indian team in the school's history to score on Washington.

The Saints then traveled to Whiting where they vented their troubles on a hapless Oiler team. Co-captain Tom "Tank" Lower really led his charges with an example of three touchdowns for them to follow. Ron Gerencher was the defensive standout in this game. This was without a doubt the best game that the Indians played all year.

The final game of the year was a disappointment to all Indian fans, but especially to the seniors who witnessed a game similar to this one when they played their first varsity game.

Games are lost and won, but the spirit of the St. Joe Indians will ever be a credit to those who will play varsity in the years to come.

Conclusion . . .

Impatient time is forcing not only the conclusion of the Yearbook, but also an all too short school year. It has been my privilege as Hi-Way editor to help in trapping this elusive time, making 1958 a lasting memory rather than a jumble of incoherent recollections.

To accomplish the capture of 1958, as this annual has so aptly done, required an unbelievable amount of time, energy, and thought. The production of the book, the largest yet published at St. Joseph's, I attribute to selflessness and cooperation. Brother Harold Ruplinger C.S.C. and the hard-working staffs are the persons responsible for the fine workmanship displayed on the preceding pages.

The Hi-Way staff takes this occasion to acknowledge . . . Mr. Raymond Patnaude of the McDonald Studio for his much appreciated photography.

"Our Sunday Visitor" for its assistance in preparing the Diocesan Centennial. The Holmes Silver Salon.

Members of the administration and faculty for their interest and cooperation. . . . and to all those who in any way lent us their assistance in preparing this annual.

STUDENT BUS TRIPS

It's off to Elkhart and Whiting with an enthusiasm that would be our way of showing our neighboring counties that our Indians are among the finest.

With the inevitable away games during the season, student bus trips were organized to follow the team to the four corners of the state.

Wrestling Team

This year marked the advent of Wrestling at St. Joseph's High. With no previous experience the Indians, ably coached by Mr. Friend, battled many of the strongest squads in the area. Adding strength and know-how as they struggled along, the Saints finished the season as a tested and capable team. Since freshmen and sophomores compose a marked majority of the teams, St. Joe will prove a dangerous opponent to all in the future.

Mr. Chuck Henszy ably assisted Mr. Dick Friend in preparing the team for its stiff competition.

SKATING PARTIES

A steady hum deadens all other sound as the skating party commences. At first the turns are very difficult, and the skaters will seem concentrated on conquering the floor boards. When the rhythmic organ music pours from the stage, the skaters lose their initial shakiness until the first one falls. No one stays down for long, but perhaps he spends some practice time on the beginners side before re-entering the more proficient stream. However, beginners or professionals have spent many rolling hours at our "Skating Parties."

Boys' Student Senate

The Boys' Senate is organized to develop a closer relationship between the administration and the student body. Directed by Brother Wilbert, C.S.C., faculty sponsor, and led by Harlan Noel, senate president, the Senate held frequent meetings wherein student representatives voiced their constructive suggestions and criticisms for the betterment of the school. During the year, the Senate organized and directed the November Skating Party, the Semester Swing, the Intramural Basketball program, and the annual collection of food for the poor at Christmas.

Girls' Student Senate

Under the guidance of Sister Mary Marcian, C.S.C., faculty moderator, and Gretchen Kintz, senate president, representatives from each home-room attended weekly meetings in order to discuss school business. The matter presented at these meetings was brought to the attention of the Senate by means of suggestion boxes. The main objective of the Senate was to promote harmony and a closer bond between the faculty and student body.

THE HI-WAY

Struggling through six months of deadlines, layouts, and advertisements, the HI-WAY staff has published a book which it believes to be unexcelled by previous annuals. The time and effort put forth in preparing this book can only be realized by the enjoyment derived by its readers.

HI-LITE

The "city room" in the library is the home of the Hi-Lite. Put out by twenty-five students, the publication steadily grows in size and news content. The nucleus of the paper is two seniors, and two juniors, who received special journalistic training at Indiana University last summer.

To celebrate the Hi-Lite's fifth birthday, the staff, under the direction of Sister Louis Irene, expanded the size of the paper by adding a fifth column on the face of the pages.

The Hi-Lite has its problems as any paper. Because the staff is limited to five issues a year, the Hi-Lite is a historical account of the school rather than a "newsy" paper.

quiver

Amid flying stencils, chattering typewriters, and stuttering staplers, the weekly edition of the Quiver was published. Congregating in the "Quiver Cave," the staff, headed by editor Bill McCraley, frantically dashed off the latest news and such literary gems as You Believe It, You Betcha, Donna's Digs, and the ever-popular Fran's Slanders.

N. C. C. J.

St. Joseph's students played an important part in the activities of the N.C.C.J. The annual institute, in which most of the area high schools were represented, was held in the Little Theater of our school. During the year this group of boys and girls discussed the social problems of the day, and among the many projects, helped to produce a skit on "Brotherhood." The work of the group was climaxed in a telecast in which the members described the goals and achievements of this very active local conference.

Junior Red Cross

The Junior Red Cross achieved its ambitious plan to provide entertainment at various hospitals and institutions throughout the county. The high point of this project came when a group of members moderated by Bro. Daniel Behmer C.S.C., appeared on WNDU-TV and outlined the different aspects of the J.R.C. work. Later the club was instrumental in the production of the spring musical, "Seventeen."

DANCES

Swing, Boy, Swing! And swing we did, at the "Indian Summer Swing." The students, led by the Senior Class, formed a large circle and danced, keeping time to the music of Billy Nicks. Football came and left, but not without due tribute paid to the team by the "Football Farewell" dance given by the Juniors.

The year has gone by, but not without regret. It has been a year of fun and enjoyment in the social life of a St. Joe student.

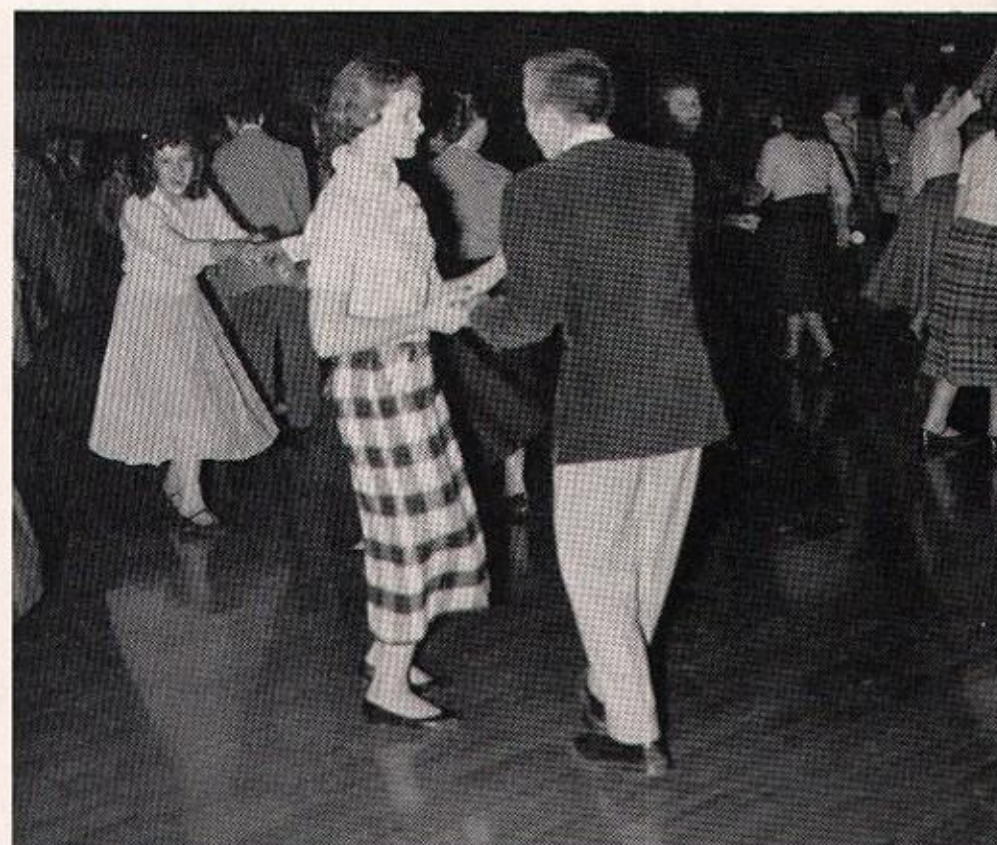

April Manford and Frank Papp seem to enjoy the social life in a more relaxed manner.

This Rock 'n Roll takes its toll of wear and tear after three hours of hopping.

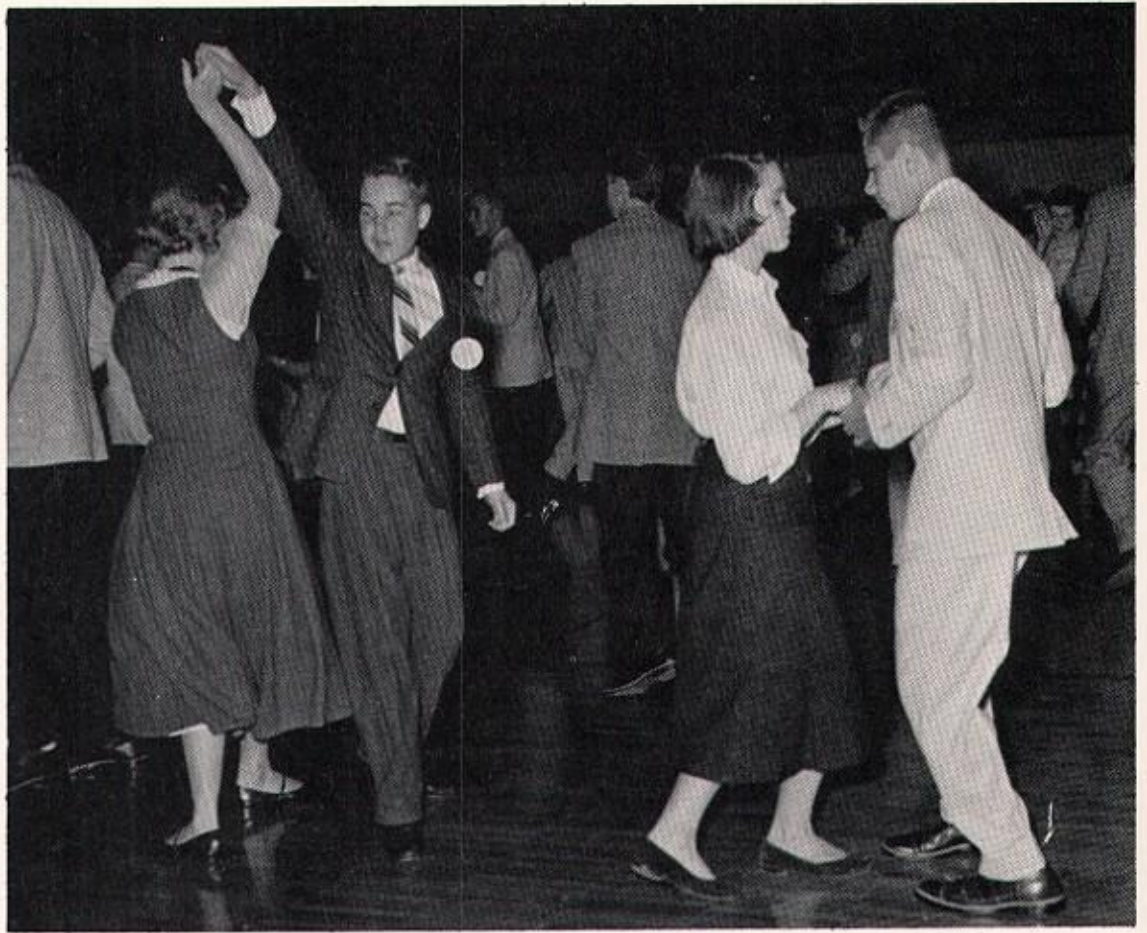

Odile MacAllister, Kathy Hosinski, Tom Lower and Harlan Noel find the cafeteria's atmosphere as pleasant as any.

... And we danced all night.

Brother Gerard — winning again!

17 — 19 — 21 — BUNCO!

Senior Placement Examinations

The Senior Class was subjected to the grueling Peg Test administered by the Indiana Employment Placement Bureau. Could this prove the difference between a college career or a road gang?

DAYTON BATTERY EXAMS

Dayton University's Mr. Lloyd Rensel and assistant direct the Battery Exams over the P.A. system.

Five hours of aptitude and intelligence tests put many a wrinkle on the fair brows of the girls' department.

There was a great deal of wear and tear on the proctors as well as those taking tests.

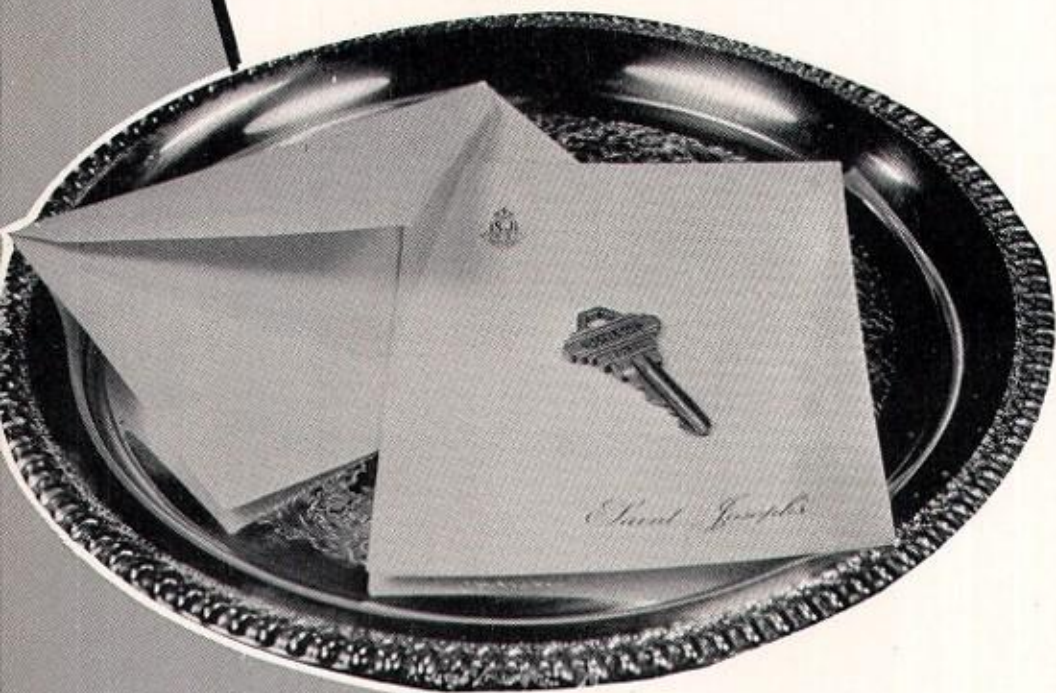

The cold winds of winter fill the air with snow flurries and the students of St. Joseph's find themselves rapidly approaching the mid-point in another eventful school year.

For the Freshmen, this season brings the first opportunity to attend the annual high school retreat. They join the Sophomores in taking three days out for meditation and prayer immediately before Christmas.

The Junior and Senior holiday parties high-lighted the social life as the year draws to a close.

One of the year's top attractions, "The Mardi Gras Mystery," headlines the banner of social events during the winter season.

In athletics, St. Joseph's saw the beginning of a promising new sport, wrestling, and near perfection in another sport, basketball. The Indian cagers compiled a tremendous record never before achieved by a St. Joe athletic team and thus gaining state-wide recognition for their school.

Underclassmen Retreat

To the underclassmen of St. Joseph's, this year's retreat was a real change from the regular curricular activities preceding it.

Although the retreat was a new experience for most of the freshmen, they entered into the true spirit of it and observed all the regulations, including the recommendation for strict silence.

Topics given by the retreat master, Father Aloysius Mehr, O.S.C., were the means of leading a holy life, opportunities for improving spiritual existence, and the reward encountered in heaven after following the suggested means. Father Mehr also explained many of the doubtful subjects that often prove puzzling to many high school students.

Religious Activities

Believing that the development of the soul is just as important as the training of the intellect, the students of St. Joseph's High School participate in the many religious activities of the year in order to increase spiritual growth.

Observance of First Friday devotions, Ash Wednesday, the blessing of throats on the feast of St. Blaise, and the weekly publication of the Religious Bulletin engendered the true spirit of a Catholic education.

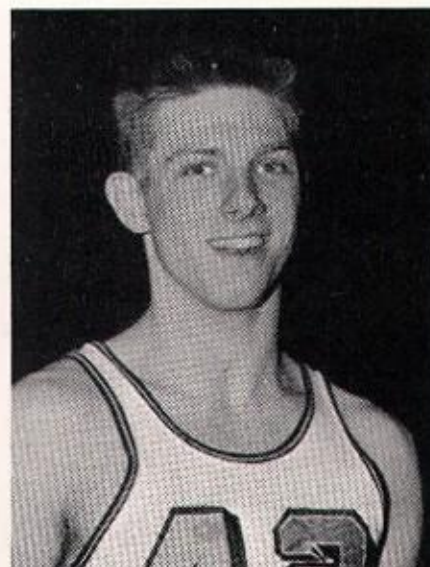

First Friday Mass and Communion. Father Marvin O'Connell, school chaplain, was celebrant at this Mass.

The Basketball Story

As the '57-'58 basketball season drew near, enthusiasm at St. Joseph's with the student body and loyal fans went up, hoping that this was "our year." With four of last year's starting five and all but one of the reserves returning, Coach Angelo Turco anticipated a highly successful campaign.

Boasting one of the tallest front lines in the state (McKenzie, Wroblewski, and O'Keefe) and two of the flashiest guards in the persons of Rick Hafron and Kevin Weinberg, the mighty Indians rolled up an impressive 7-1 record going into the South Bend Holiday Tourney.

determined Greene Township five. However, the curtain reigned down on the Indians' ambitions, as a fired up Adams team, bent on revenge for two previous defeats at the hands of St. Joseph's, stormed from a 13-point deficit to upset the twelfth-ranked Indians.

Thus, the St. Joe cagers closed a magnificent season with an unbelievable record of 22 wins and only 2 defeats, having achieved the ultimate height of a Catholic High School in the history of South Bend.

The final score to the regular season tilt with South Bend Washington. The score stands as record high for any single game played in our gym.

Realizing that this was their long-awaited chance to display their abilities before home-town skeptics, the rampaging Indians ... rampaged. When the smoke had cleared, the now-convinced spectators watched as St. Joe's walked home with their first major tourney championship at the expense of city powers, Adams, Washington, and Riley.

As if still not satisfied with these impressive victories, the Indians determined to wipe out any shadow of doubt as to who was the "City Champ." Sweeping through the rest of their schedule undefeated, claiming triumphs over such powers as Washington, Hammond Noll, Mishawaka, and St. Joseph, Michigan, the undaunted Warriors approached the Sectionals with an air of confidence and expectation.

Their first two opponents in tourney action, namely, Washington-Clay and Riley, fell in the wake of the Indian War Path. Reaching semi-final action on Saturday afternoon, the Indians climbed to unprecedented heights in completely demoralizing a

"Merry Christmas" came the greeting, and the juniors, with the Belvederes supplying the music, shouted it gayly at their first holiday party.

A towering white Christmas tree, adorned with blue lights and ribbons, set the scene for an evening that was hoped to become a class tradition.

Senior Holiday Party

With "Auld Lang Syne" having been sung and the new year here to stay, the Senior Class went all out with the top bands of America at their holiday get-together.

"Let's Go Strolling" was their cry and so they did, everyone joining in to do the "Stroll."

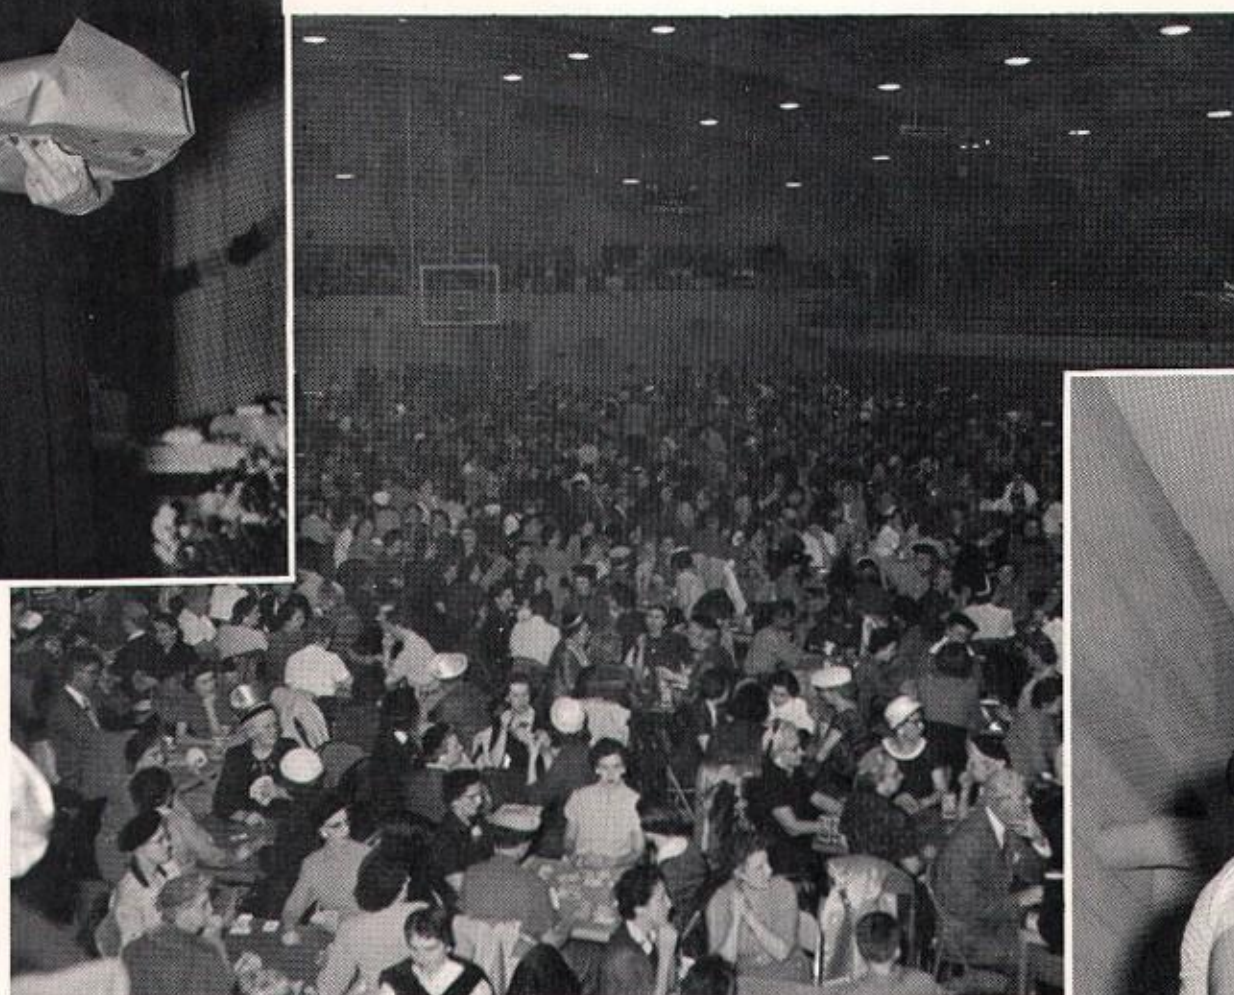

Satisfied, after the hot pizza and coke, the seniors danced away the remainder of an enjoyable party.

Mardi Gras Mystery

Against a background of Valentines, Mardi Gras goers spent a memorable evening from nine to twelve on February 14, 1958. Bobby Wear's band played for the Mardi Gras dancers. The evening was climaxed when Joyce Swiatowy was announced as sweetheart of the dance. Rosie Simeri, Pat Brusky, Karen Wunsch and Mary Diroll comprised her court.

We, the Senior Class, anticipate many things in the years to come. Our key to '58 may open numerous doors to the future. Having come a long way in our four unforgettable years at St. Joseph's, we have learned one thing: "Seek and you shall find, knock and it shall be opened to you." Seeking truth, virtue and knowledge is our proximate vocation. Finding them is our ultimate goal. Our education has bettered us spiritually, socially, mentally, and physically. Here at St. Joseph's we have secured our key to success and happiness for the future.

In Memory

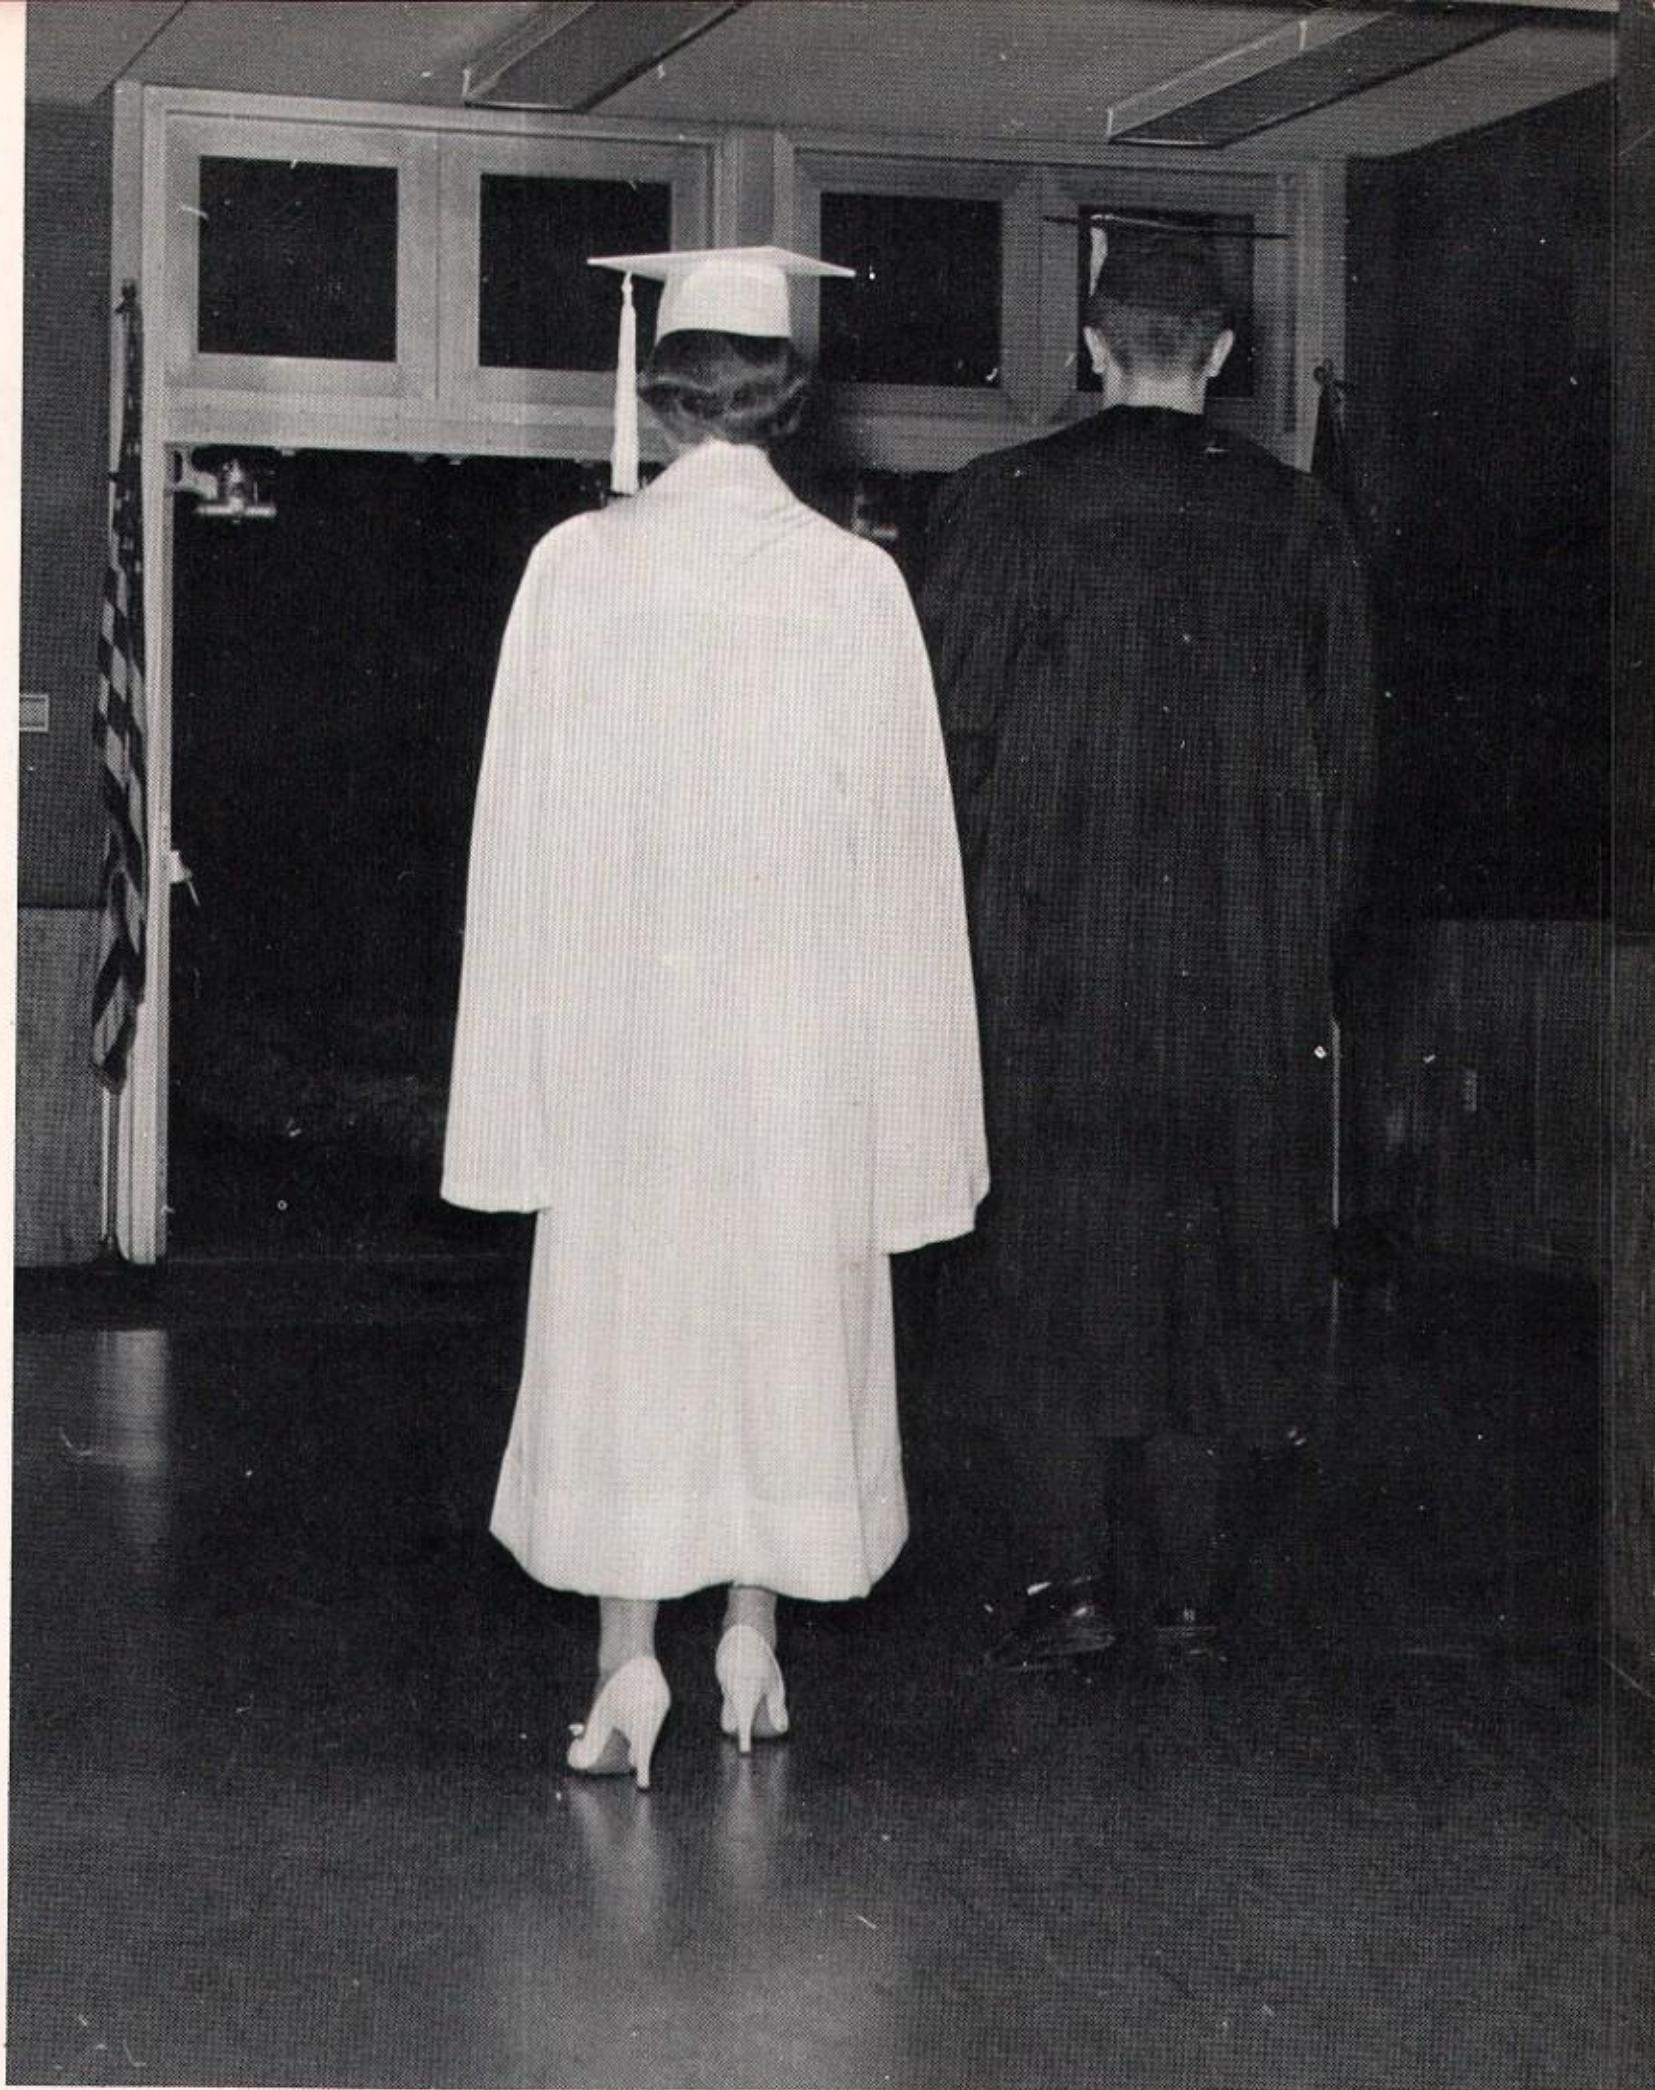

Corinne Czyzewski

Fear no more the heat o' the sun,
Nor the furious winter's rages;
Thou thy worldly task hast done,
Home art gone, and ta'en thy wages:

William Shakespeare

The Eighth Wonders of the World

As we draw near the end of our book, it seems appropriate that we should now bid farewell to the graduating seniors. After four years, they have finally come within reaching distance of the treasured "keys." Their high school career undoubtedly has been difficult and long, but just as assuredly, it has been joyous and filled with memorable events.

The seniors can look back to these past four years with very fond memories—memories they shall carry with them for a long time to come. But this is no time to be looking back to the past. They now stand on the threshold of opportunity, ready to group their keys, to open the "door" to the future, and to use them to their greatest advantage. But it is going through this "door" that the seniors will discover still greater challenges lying ahead.

Indeed, while we bid farewell and good fortune to the 1958 graduates, we shall always cherish those memorable moments with which they have so fittingly left to posterity.

Our Deepest Appreciation to the Patrons Who Have So Generously Contributed to the Support of the 1958 Hi-Way.

Conclusion . . .

Impatient time is forcing not only the conclusion of the Yearbook, but also an all too short school year. It has been my privilege as Hi-Way editor to help in trapping this elusive time, making 1958 a lasting memory rather than a jumble of incoherent recollections.

To accomplish the capture of 1958, as this annual has so aptly done, required an unbelievable amount of time, energy, and thought. The production of the book, the largest yet published at St. Joseph's, I attribute to selflessness and cooperation. Brother Harold Ruplinger C.S.C. and the hard-working staffs are the persons responsible for the fine workmanship displayed on the preceding pages.

The Hi-Way staff takes this occasion to acknowledge . . . Mr. Raymond Patnaude of the McDonald Studio for his much appreciated photography.

"Our Sunday Visitor" for its assistance in preparing the Diocesan Centennial. The Holmes Silver Salon.

Members of the administration and faculty for their interest and cooperation. . . . and to all those who in any way lent us their assistance in preparing this annual.

Mike:

To a real budaf, always remember the good times at hilltop House. Never forget Suicide Hill in the winter of 56. Boy my ass still hurts, and still got a lump in my throat from that sandwich. Let keep our friendship going.
